House Farm Fight Flares On Subsidies

Partisan Differences Produce Deadlock; Compromise Sought

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House today started a four-day cooling-off period as farm leaders sought to compromise partisan differences over proposed new farm subsidies for corn and feed grain growers.

The legislation was proposed as a means of reducing production gluts which have forced down prices in the Midwest Corn Belt. But it brought two days of heated and often personal wrangling over rival Republican and Democratic proposals.

GOP Proposal Killed

Before it laid aside farm legislation until next Tuesday, the House killed by a seven-vote margin a Republican proposal to give corn growers an expanded planting allotment and a price support floor of 75 per cent of parity.

Parity is a price deemed fair to farmers in relation to their costs.

To shouts of "Now you're talking," Rep. Colmer (D-Miss) suggested that the best thing might be to refer the entire dispute back to the Agriculture Committee.

Rep. H. Carl Andresen (R-Minn) likened Thursday's proceedings to a "wake for the farm bloc" which he said in the past had been united in the interests of the farmers.

Weekend Parleys Set

Whether the House would enact a program in time to be effective before spring planting appeared to depend on weekend conferences between partisan factions.

Before the House quit, Chairman Cooley (D-NC) of the Agriculture Committee indicated willingness to "consider" revision of a far-ranging Democratic bill which now would add feed grain growers to those eligible for soil bank subsidies.

Rep. Poage (D-Texas) also invited Republicans to meet with committee Democrats to discuss their differences. Rep. August Andresen of Minnesota, senior committee Republican, retorted: "You just want us to take over your bill."

Decided by Close Vote

It was an Andresen substitute for the Democratic proposal which the House rejected 187-180.

Shaped along lines proposed by Secretary of Agriculture Benson, the Republican-backed Andresen bill would have set a new three-year national corn planting allotment of 51 million acres with price supports at a minimum of 75 per cent of parity.

It would also have permitted corn growers to put into the soil bank reserve 15 per cent of their corn acreage, or any other tillable cropland.

The bill also carried an amendment which would have allowed corn growers to share in soil bank benefits even if they did not comply with acreage controls.

Monopoly Charged

IBC Ruled Illegal By Federal Court

NEW YORK (AP)—A federal court today found the International Boxing Club of New York guilty of monopolizing professional championship boxing bouts.

Judge Sylvester J. Ryan held that the club, its officers and affiliates had excluded competitors in an unreasonable restraint of trade and commerce.

Filed by Government

"The defendants, as a result of their activities, acquired power during the period covered by the complaint (June 1, 1949, to May 15, 1953) to exclude competitors from the promotion of championship contests in the United States," the judge said in a 59-page opinion.

The antitrust suit was brought by the government.

Named as defendants, besides the IBC of New York, were the IBC, Inc., of Illinois; Madison Square Garden Corp.; James D. Norris, president of the New York IBC, and Arthur M. Wirtz, Chicago IBC president.

The Garden is a large stockholder in the two IBC organizations.

The government had charged that the defendants, in violation of the Sherman Antitrust Act, conspired to restrain and monopolize interstate and foreign commerce in the promotion, exhibition, broadcasting, telecasting and motion picture production and distribution of professional championship boxing bouts.

Handled 36 of 44

Harry Markson, managing director of the IBC, said he wanted to examine the ruling before making a statement.

The trial lasted nine days last April and May. Judge Ryan heard the case without a jury.

The government stated in its complaint that in the period involved there were 44 world championship matches in the United States and that the defendants promoted or participated in the promotion of 36 of them, or about 86 per cent.

In a section of his opinion entitled "findings of fact," the judge said the defendants acquired "the contracts with the four heavyweight contenders from Joe Louis."

He said they controlled key stadia and arenas and procured exclusive contracts with champions and contenders.

The intent and result of their activities, the judge held, was "to obtain control of, and exclude others from, the promotion of championship boxing contests in the United States."

Conspiracy Charge

"The defendants have been engaged in a combination and conspiracy in unreasonable restraint of trade and commerce...and were parties to contracts, agreements, arrangements and understandings in unreasonable restraint of such trade and commerce," Judge Ryan said.

Ryan held that other promoters were excluded from promoting championship bouts as a result of control exercised by the defendants.

Ike Will Seek Sun in Florida To Cure Cough

WASHINGTON (AP)— President Eisenhower hopes to go to Florida about the middle of next week for sun and exercise to help him overcome a head cold, cough and inflamed ear.

Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty told reporters today that the lingering cough seems "a little better this morning."

He said Eisenhower still has a slight inflammation in the inner ear but isn't using a cotton plug he had in the ear Thursday.

The chief executive's head cold also remains.

At the time of the announcement it had been raining for hours in Washington. The weather had been generally damp for weeks.

Hagerty told reporters it is the hope and expectation that Eisenhower will fly to Florida for five or six days before going to Bermuda March 20 for conferences with Prime Minister Macmillan of Great Britain.

Nothing "has firmed up" Hagerty said, but the White House is looking for a spot at some military post with a good golf course or perhaps a private home near a course, rather than a hotel.

Both Vice President Nixon and Secretary of State Dulles are out of the country at present. Eisenhower told a news conference Thursday that because of their absence it would be a little awkward for him to leave now, since the Middle East situation still requires daily attention, even though he said it has improved.

Eisenhower showed up at his news conference Thursday with a medicated cotton plug in his left ear and said he was having difficulty hearing as a result of a newly developed head cold.

Divers Search River Bottom At Crash Scene

Coast Guard and Navy Step Up Investigation In Collision of Ships

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Army Corps of Engineers ordered the Delaware River channel to the Philadelphia port closed completely for four hours today to permit diving at the scene of a tanker-freighter collision Thursday.

Ten men were listed as missing and feared dead when the Navy tanker Mission San Francisco and the Liberian freighter Elna II rammed shortly after midnight with an explosion that set fire to both ships.

Col. Allen F. Clark Jr. of the Army Engineers said divers would investigate an "obstruction" detected in the channel Thursday that might be the bridge blown from the Mission San Francisco by the explosion. Most of the missing men were thought to have been on the bridge at the time of the collision.

Coast Guard and Navy probes were under way today to seek causes of the accident, which took place at a bend in the channel known as the "Graveyard of Ships" because of numerous shipping mishaps there.

Fifty-eight persons were rescued from the two vessels.

Snow Makes Roads Slick in Marion Area

A fine veil of snow which started falling during the night made early morning driving hazardous throughout Marion and surrounding communities.

The local weather station reported a thermometer reading of 29 degrees at noon, with continued cold expected tonight and Saturday. Little hope was seen for clearing weather, as continued cloud laden skies and rain or snow were forecast for the next 24 hours.

In Columbus and central Ohio a snowfall that began in the early morning was continuing through mid-morning and threatening drifts in some rural spots.

The Cincinnati area had a snowfall during the night ranging from a half to two inches, and driving conditions were bad on some roads.

The Ohio Department of Highways reported that highways were snow covered and slippery in an area east and south of a line marked by Cleveland, Mansfield, Lancaster, Washington Court House and Georgetown. Roads are slippery in spots in the area south of Woodsfield, McConnellsville, Athens and Gallipolis, and in an area marked by Eaton, Xenia and Batavia as well as in the vicinity of London, Columbus, Delaware, and Mount Gilead.

The weather bureau saw an end to the snow in most areas by afternoon, but indicated there might be some rain in the central and south sections along with "cloudy, windy and colder" conditions.

Installations Blown Up in Withdrawal

Arab Fortifications At Entrance to Gulf Of Aqaba Destroyed

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Israeli forces turned over control of Sharm El Sheikh to the United Nations today and began their withdrawal from the last territory won in the invasion of Egypt.

This was announced by an Israeli military spokesman, who said a small contingent of troops would remain for several days to complete removal of equipment from the strategic area guarding the entrance to the Gulf of Aqaba.

Finnish Force Moves In

Finnish troops of the U. N. emergency force moved in.

About 100 men and a girl comprise the Israeli garrison for Sharm El Sheikh and nearby Tiran Island in the gulf.

With no guarantee of how long the U. N. troops would remain the Israelis Thursday destroyed Egyptian military installations which had been used to keep ships from reaching the Israeli port of Eilat, at the head of the gulf.

The Israelis blew up concrete pillboxes, bunkers, an ammunition depot and two six-inch coastal guns. They already had spiked the guns after the invasion.

Equipment Seized

Earlier, the Israeli forces had shipped home valuable supplies of tanks, guns, vehicles and other equipment. Much of it was captured from the Egyptians by the invading force which knifed across the Sinai Peninsula in October and November.

Three hundred miles north, the Israelis completed withdrawal from the Gaza Strip and UNEF was in full control.

Col. Matityahu Peled, departing Israeli military governor of the Gaza Strip, called on the 300,000 residents in a proclamation to observe law and order. Most of the inhabitants, including about 200,000 Palestine Arab refugees who hate Israel intensely, remained indoors under a curfew.

Tenure Indefinite

UNEF's tenure in the Gaza Strip is as indefinite as at Sharm el Sheikh. Canadian Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, UNEF commander, issued a proclamation at Cairo announcing his forces were moving in "with the consent of the government of Egypt" to manage civil affairs "until further arrangements are made." He ordered the population to remain quiet and not to carry arms.

The Israelis left behind six Arab municipal councils set up to conduct civil affairs. U.N. officials said they had enough experts in their corps of administrators, which includes two Americans, to administer the strip without calling in Egyptian civilians.

Panama Canal Is Target For U.S. Mock Attack

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force announced plans today for its participation in a massive simulated assault on the Panama Canal next month.

The announcement said the joint services maneuvers, tagged Carib-Ex, would give the Tactical Air Command (TAC) a chance to deploy "its latest concept of composite strike forces."

More than 10,000 Army and Marine troops, about 135 Air Force and Marine tactical and troop carrier aircraft, and 24 Navy ships will take part in the giant training exercise directed by Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison, head of the Army's Caribbean Command.

Cairo Press Hits Ike

CAIRO (AP) — The newspaper Al Ahram declared today President Eisenhower speaks about the Middle East "as if he is talking about Florida or Texas." The comment was made in an editorial criticizing remarks by Eisenhower at his news conference Thursday on the status of the Gulf of Aqaba as an international waterway.

U.N. FORCES TAKE OVER. Israeli army's chief of staff, Maj. Gen. Moshe Dayan (right), welcomes Lt. Col. Carl Engholm, Danish commander of U.N. forces, on the main square of the city of Gaza as the Israelis turned over the area to the U.N.

Probers Study Results of Lie Detector Tests

Senate's Committee Presses Inquiry Into Teamsters in Oregon

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mayor Terry D. Schrunk of Portland demanded a lie detector test today to support his denials that he accepted money from the operator of a gambling house which Schrunk raided in September 1955.

The Senate Rackets Committee, looking into an alleged scheme to seize control of vice profits in Portland, promised to try to arrange such a test.

Calls it 'Fantastic'

Schrunk denied "picking up a package" outside the gambling house, as two Portland policemen said they saw him do, and said he did not "get $500" from the operator. He denounced as "just too fantastic" previous testimony about him to the committee, including the accusation by gambler James B. (Big Jim) Elkins that Schrunk took a $500 bribe to call off the raid.

Schrunk, a Democrat, was sheriff of Multnomah County at the time of the raid on the dice and cards gambling house, known as Club 3212. He was elected mayor last year. Witnesses have said the Teamsters Union swung its political support to him after the previous administration balked at "opening up" Portland to vice profits.

8th Day of Hearings

A few minutes before Schrunk returned to the witness stand for a second day, committee Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) announced that a lie detector test had turned up reactions "indicative of untruthfulness" on the part

2 Armed Men Hold Up Store And Take $35

Market at Prospect And George Robbed; Bandits Flee in Auto

Two armed robbers held up the North Side Grocery at Prospect and George streets Thursday night and left in a huff over the small "take."

Carl Rorick, owner and operator of the store, told police the two men got a total of only $35.

The pair walked in the store about 6 p.m. while Mr. Rorick and his wife, Ellen, were waiting on a customer, Mrs. Ralph Jones of 134 Sharpless Ct.

Pull Revolver

One was about 5 feet, 11 inches tall and the other was about 5 feet, 5 inches tall, Mr. Rorick told police.

As they entered the store, the shorter one walked directly to the rear of the store where Mr. and Mrs. Rorick and Mrs. Jones were standing, pulled a revolver and ordered Mr. Rorick to hand over the money.

Mr. Rorick said he pointed to the cash register and told him the money was there. The larger of the two men then followed Mrs. Rorick to the cash register, opened it and scooped out all the money.

Race to Auto

Looking over the loot, the smaller of the two said, "I know there's more than that in the store," and asked Mr. Rorick where the rest of the money was. Mr. Rorick said he told them there was no more, that Thursday was a slow day.

The larger of the two then said, "Let's get out of here," and turned on his heel and walked out. The smaller one backed to the front door threatening Mr. and Mrs. Rorick and Mrs. Jones with the gun and warned them not to at-

Route Clear For Ships Up To 500 Tons

Okay for Removing Of Last Two Sunken Craft Expected Today

CAIRO (AP) — Two small ships started moving through the Suez Canal today. Egypt also was expected to give the green light today for final clearance of the vital waterway.

The 147-ton yacht Maralvi, flying the flag of Kuwait, and the 238-ton Greek tug Mikali with a 292-ton barge in tow started south from Port Said. Egypt's Suez Canal Authority announced Thursday night the canal would open at daybreak to ships of less than 500 tons.

Final Okay Expected

The semi-official Middle East News Agency reported Egypt finally would give permission to Lt. Gen. Raymond A. Wheeler, the U. N. salvage chief, for removal of the last obstacles from the 103-mile channel.

A spokesman for the Egyptian Suez Canal Authority said the Maralvi and the Mikali did not pay transit tolls because ships of less than 300 tons are exempt from such charges by authority rules. Egyptian tug captains are steering the two small vessels through.

It now is expected the canal will be open by the end of the month to ships up to 10,000 tons —about 70 per cent of normal traffic including most tankers.

The key Middle East waterway was blocked by sunken ships, wrecked bridges and other debris when British and French invasion forces attacked Egypt last fall. Final clearance was delayed by Egypt until Israeli forces withdrew from the last areas they held following their October-November attack on Egypt's Sinai Peninsula.

Last Major Obstructions

The last major obstructions clogging the canal are the 841-ton tug Edgar Bonnet and the 1,460-ton Egyptian frigate Abukir. The Edgar Bonnet was sunk near Ismailia, the canal's halfway point. The Abukir went down four miles north of Suez, the southern terminus.

The U. N. clearance operation began Dec. 28, almost two months after the canal was blocked. Using a fleet of 31 salvage vessels, assembled from various parts of Europe, the work proceeded at a fast rate until it was slowed by

Bids on Local Sewers Above Cost Estimates

Bids for the Indiana Ave. and Forest Lawn Blvd. trunk and relief sanitary sewers appear to be higher than the original estimates, Safety-Service Director R. Guy Bigelow said today.

Final tabulation of the bids has not yet been completed but the preliminary examination indicated it would be some 18 per cent higher than the original estimates, Mr. Bigelow said.

When the tabulations are completed and all the lowest combinations of bids are compiled, the bids may be much closer to the original estimates, he added.

Floyd G. Browne and Associates, consulting engineers, who drew the plans and specifications, originally estimated total cost of the three sewers would be about $547,000.

Mr. Bigelow said today that plans are to meet with Browne and Associates to determine which is the best and lowest bid based on the various combinations of alternates.

"We hope to come up with a recommendation by Monday or Tuesday of next week," he said.

He added that the preliminary examination of the bids seemed to indicate also that the bids of two of the bidders were fairly consistent.

A total of six companies submitted bids before the closing deadline at noon Thursday.

Researchers Encouraged

Breakthrough Reported In Cancer Vaccine Hunt

By RENNIS TAYLOR
AP Science Reporter

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A breakthrough in the long efforts of medical science to produce a vaccine against cancer was announced here today.

The new development is a vaccine which protects chickens against a cancer. It does not give full protection and it cannot yet be used on a practical basis, but it "may serve as a model" for developing a vaccine for humans, said its originator.

Details of the work were reported to the 11th annual Symposium on Fundamental Research in Cancer by Dr. B. R. Burmester a virus specialist for the U.S. Department of Agriculture Research Laboratory at East Lansing, Mich. Dr. Burmester produced the experimental vaccine there.

This kind of cancer is called lymphomatosis. It causes malignant growths on the "inards" of chickens and it originates as the result of a virus infection. In some respects it resembles leukemia in humans. The cause of human leukemia is not known but a virus is suspected as the initial disease agent.

Virtually every flock of chickens in this country has this virus infection but not all the birds develop cancerous growths, Dr. Burmester said. Sickness and death rates are high among the hens which contact the cancer and it costs poultrymen about 75 million dollars a year, the virologist reported.

The vaccine is an extract from the cancer. It is injected into full-grown hens. Its effectiveness is tested by inoculating the hens la-

Charges of Abuse Exaggerated

Marine Recruits Back Down on Witness Stand

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (AP) — Several Marine recruits testified Thursday that a drill instructor charged with hitting them actually only tapped them.

The testimony came in the court-martial of Cpl. William R. Walsh, Lyndhurst, N.J., charged with 24 counts of hazing and maltreatment involving 11 members of Recruit Platoon 399. It is the fourth such trial here in less than a month.

Was Given Choice

Pvt. Edmund L. Ramie, Watertown, N.Y., one of the recruits, said he was told to sign a statement or go to the brig. He said the statement contained the word "hit" but Ramie said he never claimed to have been hit, "only tapped."

Walsh's civilian counsel, lawyer Fred W. Shields of Mount Vernon, Va., then asked, "Did Capt. Morgan tell you it was the truth and to sign it or go to the brig?"

"Yes, sir," Ramie replied.

The officer Shields mentioned is Capt. Pat Morgan, Austin, Tex.

Started Investigation

Of the recruits who testified Thursday, all except one, Pvt. David Lee Porter, 18, Hartford, Vt., said blows Walsh is accused of delivering on them actually were "taps."

Porter is the recruit who started the investigation of Platoon 399 from which have originated three preceding courts-martial in this latest flurry of maltreatment charges.

Pvt. Porter's father, Nelson R. Porter, claimed publicly he had a letter from his son complaining he had been hit with an iron bar.

Annual 'Week' Opens Sunday

Girl Scouts Will Mark Their 45th Anniversary

Girl Scouts of the Marion-Morrow district will join others throughout the nation in observing Girl Scout Week beginning Sunday.

In a proclamation, Mayor Gale D. Ireland has called upon local citizens to give Girl Scouts the "fullest cooperation and support so that increasing numbers of girls may benefit from the splendid program of training in citizenship which the Girl Scout program offers."

THE GIRL SCOUTS will be marking a double anniversary — their own 45th birthday and centenary celebrations for the man whose ideas on women's education helped shaped the lives of the 12 and one-half million American women who have taken part in the movement.

The man was Robert Baden-Powell who started the idea of a scouting game for boys while he was still an officer in the British Army. Because Baden-Powell was one of the first supporters of scouting for girls, the Girl Scouts this week are joining in Baden-Powell centenary celebrations being observed by scouts and guides all over the world.

Baden-Powell's idea for a scouting game started with a book, Aids for Scouting, which he wrote in 1899. The idea caught on so fast, he had to retire from the army to devote full time to his new youth movement.

One of the first big scout rallies in London had so many girls in makeshift Boy Scout uniforms that Baden-Powell, to the astonishment of many, decided to launch a similar organization for girls. He promptly started writing a scouting handbook for girls.

"Now I shall be told that I am trying to make girls into tomboys," he declared. "Not a bit of it — quite the opposite. But girls don't want to be dolls, and men do not desire to have dolls as their wives — they want comrades."

IN 1918, A FEW years before women were to vote in the United States, he noted that "it is all very well for the girl to learn the three R's and the amount of knowledge given in schools, but this merely supplies a ground-work. If she is to be equally efficient with her brothers for work in the world, a girl must be given equal chances with him — equal chances for picking up character and skill, discipline and bodily health, and equal chances for using these when she has got them."

Almost simultaneously, as Baden-Powell was working to bring scouting to girls in England, Juliette Low was organizing Girl Scout troops in Georgia, Massachusetts, New York and Ohio. Mrs. Low learned about scouting in England. After several meetings with Baden-Powell, she determined to establish a scout organization for girls in the United States.

Sharing ideas on the education of women far in advance of their times, these two individualists established an educational and recreation program that has become a familiar part of "growing up" in America and Europe and today is being launched as a pioneer program for women in new countries in Asia and Africa.

Teacher Dies in Crash

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — James Spence Williams, 22, of Lancaster, history and social science teacher at Carroll High School, Fairfield County, was injured fatally in a traffic collision early today.

Williams died of injuries in a hospital a short time after the accident. His car and one driven by Stewart J. Martin, 22, of suburban Whitehall, figured in a collision on Hamilton Road.

A 1956 graduate of Ohio University, Williams was a native of Corning, Perry County.

Subsidies Boost Ohio Farm Income 7 Per Cent in 1956

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government subsidies totaling almost 16 million dollars helped boost the net income of Ohio farmers seven per cent last year, the Department of Agriculture reported.

The Ohio average is now slightly below the national average of $4,415, the department said.

Government payments totaled $15,985,000. This included $5,264,000 for conservation, $660,000 for sugar beet subsidies, $2,371,000 for wool subsidies, and $7,690,000 for soil bank payments. The department's figures also show that dairy products improved the Ohio farmer's income, as did increased prices for eggs and corn.

On the debit side, Ohio farmers had lower receipts for wheat and oats and a continued climb in expenses.

Transit Boss Takes Bus, Is Late for Appointment

CHICAGO (AP) — Virgil E. Gunlock, chairman of the Chicago Transit Authority, which operates the city's bus and elevated lines, was 15 minutes late for an important appointment Thursday.

Gunlock had taken a CTA bus to a Loop hotel to address the Kiwanis Club.

"What happened to me I am certain has happened many times to all of you," he apologized after being introduced as the guest speaker. "Traffic congestion, especially at more than 100 major intersections, has made it impossible for any of our buses to travel very fast."

Hall Has Ike's Support in Bid For New York's Governorship

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's enthusiastic endorsement appeared today to have given former Republican National Chairman Leonard W Hall the inside track for next year s Republican nomination for governor of New York

Eisenhower told a cocktail party gathering of GOP members of the Senate, House, cabinet and executive agencies here Thursday night that if Hall wants to try for the governorship he will have the President as a "booster '

Observing that newspapermen had speculated Hall would like to make the race, Eisenhower drew a laugh from about 200 GOP members when he said he never participates in politics "in the several states "

'But if Leonard Hall runs for governor of New York he is going to have one booster in me," Eisenhower said 'He has never even told me what he wants to do, but I want him to know he's got one supporter "

Hall had only a "no comment" to questions as to whether, as generally reported, he had expected appointment to an administration post when he announced his resignation as national chairman in January Grinning, he had the same reply about his future political plans

New York Republicans nominate heir governorship candidates in conventions Hall would have to deal with other politically ambitious GOP members to get the nomination, but Eisenhower's voluntary backing of Hall was regarded as significant

Air Researchers Test Artificial Environments

DALLAS (AP) — An Air Force scientist says modern science now can create an artificial environment which would sustain human life on the moon but that the problem is getting there and back.

Lt. Col. John P. Stapp, chief of the Aero-Medical Field Laboratory at Holloman Air Development Center, N. M., said his laboratory is conducting tests on the creation of such artificial environments.

"Tropical fish can live on the North Pole if they are kept in an enclosed aquarium at proper temperatures," Col. Stapp said. "In the same way, man can transplant an enclosure of human proportions anywhere he wants it. It will sustain life so long as proper temperatures, oxygen, pressure, food and water are available."

The previous record for the corresponding period was $2,440,000,000 in the 1951-52 fiscal year.

Bible Words for Today

ST. JOHN 11:25,26—"Jesus said, I am the resurrection, and the life: he that believeth in Me, though he were dead, yet shall he live: and whosoever liveth and believeth in Me shall never die". (King James Version)

* * *

Leonard Lyons, Broadway columnist, reported that the night Fred Allen, longtime star of vaudeville, radio and television, died, Lyons and his wife chanced to have spent the evening nearby. They hurried to be with Mrs. Allen in her grief, and accompanied her to the lobby where her husband's dead body had been taken after he collapsed on the sidewalk. Lyons wrote:

"'How old was your husband?' the policeman asked.

"Mrs. Allen clutched the cold hand of the beloved humorist who had just breathed his last.

"'Not was—is', she said, in desperate hope. 'He is 61.'"

When I read that three-word phrase, "Not was—is," I said to myself, "There, in the language of Broadway in the year of our Lord 1956, is the great affirmation of life everlasting which the New Testament has made for nineteen hundred years."

This Is It

If Treasury Secretary Humphrey meant it when he said the presidential budget should be cut and if President Eisenhower meant it when he backed him up, now is the time to prove the pudding.

A relatively minor matter which has taken on large significance in Ohio will test the sincerity of budget - cutters in this session of Congress.

It took on significance when Sen. Lausche rattled Cleveland's composure by announcing he was not in favor of a federal grant of nearly $5 million to build a stadium in his home town for the Pan American games. Cleveland is Secretary Humphrey's home town, too.

But did Secretary Humphrey praise Sen. Lausche? Did Clevelanders praise him? On the contrary, a delegation of Clevelanders will go directly to the White House to build up political pressure, if possible, to overcome the effect of Lausche's announcement on budget - cutting representatives and senators.

If they are successful, there will be no more time wasted on budget - cutting this session. Politicians will read the handwriting on the wall, and it will say, "Budget - cutting is for the birds. The President and his chief financial adviser were fooling."

Five million isn't much, but it could slam the door on five billion that could be boiled out of the presidential budget for the 12 months starting next July 1.

Promising Idea

The Marion County Agricultural Society is moving slowly and cautiously, but in the right direction, in its efforts to solve its problem with the Veterans Memorial Coliseum.

The county prosecutor also has been doing a good job of investigating the possibilities and keeping the society advised.

Many Marion County residents undoubtedly are impatient for swifter action, but this is the kind of problem in which the solution probably will be reached slowly and laboriously.

This particularly is true because at the moment two state departments — the attorney general and auditor's offices—are involved.

Although thoroughness and care are indicated in the investigation, we are hopeful that they do not become vacillation and indecision. Once the attorney general's ruling on the legality of the Coliseum board is received, definite steps along one or more of several routes can and should be taken.

For purposes of efficiency it would seem that a long look should be taken at the possibility of employing a full-time professional Coliseum manager who would be responsible directly to the fair board.

One of the factors that created the Coliseum muddle was the looseness of organization and division of responsibility. If full administrative authority were vested in the manager and he reported directly to the agricultural society, or to the county commissioners, it should create a closer-knit operation.

This was among the possibilities listed by Prosecutor Robert Stout and it has a great deal of promise.

Jam-Slam in Columbus

Ohioans would be surprised to learn how many of the 1,374 bills introduced in the General Assembly this year have merit.

But they will never know. In a deluge of that size, only a few proposals can be given careful consideration. Many good bills will share the fate of most of the bad bills. They will be shuffled into wastebaskets as quickly and quietly as possible. Ohioans never will know about them. There will not be time to find out.

This is one of the drawbacks of biennial sessions. If Ohio legislators met every year, there would be two chances for even one-term representatives and senators to introduce new legislation and two chances for every legislature to recognize the merit in good bills. The public would have a chance each year to hear about legislative affairs.

It is not good for Ohioans to have their legislative interests put through a jam-slam session once every two years, no chance for deliberation and discussion.

Strongest of the Weak

It seems to have been a long time ago since Irish politics caused as much excitement in the United States as it caused at home. It has been a long time.

Eamon de Valera, who has led his political party to another victory at the polls, was only 33 years old when a reprieve from a death sentence catapulted him into political leadership; the Easter rebellion of 1916 made him what he still is today—the strongest of a generation of Irish leaders whose common weakness has been inability to unite a divided country.

De Valera will be 75 in October. He will have another chance to unite the Irish Free State and another chance to settle the problem of Northern Ireland. Having been prime minister for 19 of the last 25 years, he knows by this time what he cannot do and how not to try to do it. That is the ultimate wisdom that comes to leaders who manipulate the destinies of human beings by virtue of possessing office.

Ike's Prerogative

By David Lawrence

Slight of McCarthy Seen as Unwise Politically

President Eisenhower has every right to invite to official receptions at the White House whomever he pleases even though such social functions are paid for with taxpayers' money.

Lawrence

The South will rejoice at the acceptance by the President of the principle that there need not be any "forced association" where public funds or facilities are involved.

Congress annually appropriates for the use of the President a fund to cover entertainment expenses and usually there are several state dinners and receptions —for the diplomatic corps, the judiciary, the vice president, the speaker of the House, members of Congress, and government officials.

Invitations are issued in the name of the President of the United States, and when a reception for members of Congress is held, the assumption is that it includes all members, irrespective of party.

To discriminate against any member of Congress, either because of his public speeches or because he has offended the White House in some other way, may be wise or unwise politically but it is legally and socially correct.

Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin, it has just been confirmed by the White House itself, was not invited to the reception for members of Congress either this year or in 1955.

There was no such reception in 1956 due to the President's illness.

WHILE THE PRESIDENT doubtless felt he had ample provocation because of the bitter attacks made on him and his administration by Mr. McCarthy, the question arises as to whether it was wise for the President to snub also those people of the State of Wisconsin who voted for and elected Sen. McCarthy and who agree with his criticisms. If it is intended to begin a "purge" of Mr. McCarthy in connection with his bid for renomination in the Republican primaries in 1958, this kind of thing can boomerang and benefit the senator just as it turned out in almost every case of attempted "purge" by Democratic Presidents Roosevelt and Truman.

In politics, when you make a martyr, often votes are made for the underdog.

This was the case when the elder Robert La Follette, senator from Wisconsin and a progressive Republican, was bitterly condemned from one end of the country to the other during World War I for his speeches denouncing his own government at a time when young men were being drafted to go to war. He was accused of obstructing the war effort.

SEN. LA FOLLETTE refused to testify before a congressional committee as to his conduct. No action was taken to punish him although the Senate was petitioned by both houses of the Wisconsin legislature and by the Republican state central committee to expel him.

Just three years later he was overwhelmingly re-elected senator from Wisconsin by a larger vote than he had received before. He ran for the presidency of the United States on the Progressive party ticket in 1924 and polled nearly 5 million votes, which is more than Theodore Roosevelt got when he ran on the Progressive ticket in 1912.

Even as late as November 1956 the Republican voters of Wisconsin gave a combined majority to two Republicans who opposed Sen. Wiley in his successful contest for renomination.

The two who actually polled together a majority of the votes in the primary were generally favorable to Sen. McCarthy's position on public questions and it was widely assumed that the renomination of Sen. Wiley was desired by the White House.

So it is not easy to predict what the Wisconsin voters in the Republican party may do in the next primary, nor is it easy to foretell how many Democratic voters who side with Sen. McCarthy may cross over into the Republican party and help him win both the nomination and the election.

AS LONG AS Congress appropriates money for public functions like the official reception given to members of Congress by the President, it is arguable that the President must invite all members of both houses.

Mr. Eisenhower has rightly decided that there is nothing in the law or the Constitution which forces him to associate with anybody in Congress at any official function unless he feels so inclined.

In modern politics, however, many a candidate or holder of high office has won public esteem by smothering his opponent with dignity and courtesy even in the face of vituperation.

Fathers Cannot Win

By TRUMAN TWILL

A judge in Arlington, Va., has struck another blow against misrepresentation of fathers on television.

The judge had a good reason. A couple of half-grown kids had just finished telling his court how they had taken advantage of a TV blueprint to kill their father and dispose of his body.

It is not the danger of being the victim of a capital crime that is annoying us fathers so much, however, as the injustice of being represented as deliberately muddle-headed, contrary, selfish, nerve-ridden parents who do not understand our own children.

It annoys us because it is true. We are out of step with our own children. We do not understand them, and we have no hope of being understood. What are we supposed to do about it?

In the rest of the animal kingdom, it is taken for granted that the male progenitor is an outsider in family life. No one worries about this. The mother cat and her kittens give Ole Tom a wide berth, and that is the end of it.

Little sea lions are not expected to know their own fathers. To those interesting mammals, the whales, one big whale looks just like another big whale, unless it is the little whale's mother.

Horses, cattle, pigs, dogs, rabbits — they expect nothing from the old man except a thorough letting-alone and are thankful for small favors.

But we human fathers are held up to ridicule and contempt for not making a whopping success of something we should not be trying to do in the first place.

The only reward we can expect to garner, if we last long enough, is to strike up an adult friendship with our offspring when they finally realize our intentions were good, no matter how bad the performances may have been.

Dear Old Dad wants nothing out of life but a fair shake; he wants it to be known there is a built-in reason why circumstances make him seem to be a clown or a devil. Even when he proves to be a real stinker, there are more cards stacked against him than he can be held accountable for in a game he cannot win.

Script - writers for television are desperate for tensions to dramatize, which explains why they pick on papa. If once in a while they would reveal by a passing comment that they understand papa's position, they could be forgiven.

The cards are stacked.

They always have been. It has taken television to burn home the truth.

It Was a Tough Race

Crusading Investigator Emerging

By David Barnett

Robert F. Kennedy is as unlikely looking a crusading investigator as has ever performed under the television lights of a Senate committee room.

Mr. Kennedy is chief counsel for the select Senate committee that is staging its long-heralded inquiry into charges of racketeering in labor and industry.

He is a boyish Bostonian, with a full head of brown hair and innocent-looking blue eyes. His gentle voice reflects his background as a member of an important Boston Catholic family who was educated in the best Ivy League schools.

As he questions bull - necked strong men about call girls and payoffs connected with labor rackets, he continually twists a paper clip. You expect him to blush any moment.

But take it from his wife, Ethel, the 31 - year - old Robert F. Kennedy is one "very aggressive" character. What he lacks in flamboyance, Mr. Kennedy makes up in tenacity and in the "will to win."

This "will" seems to run in the family. The counsel's father, former Ambassador to England Joseph P. Kennedy, started with nothing and built a fortune and a family of nine children. Robert's brother, John, is senator from Massachusetts and a willing candidate for higher office.

FATHER KENNEDY, son Robert recalls, insisted that the children go into any competition to win and "if we didn't, we found out about it when we got home."

Bobby, as the young Kennedy is called, keeps in shape for any fight at the "place" they have at McLean, in nearby Virginia. Each morning from 7:15 to 8:30 o'clock, the Kennedys go for a ride on an Irish hunter and a Virginia mare. There is a pony for the five children.

During vacations on Cape Cod, Bobby plays football on the beach and lawn of the family's summer home. Last fall, the need for competition prompted him to play some semipro football in Barnstable.

This compulsion to get in the fight probably explains in part why Bobby left Harvard so he could enlist as a seaman.

He went back to Harvard after the war and played varsity end on the football team in 1946 and 1947. After he was graduated in February, 1948, young Kennedy took off for the Middle East to look at the fighting in Israel.

-:-

HE RETURNED to take a law degree at the University of Virginia law school, in 1951, and then went to work for the Justice Department.

Bobby left the Justice Department in 1952 to manage his brother's campaign for the Senate. He returned to Washington in 1953 as assistant counsel to the Senate permanent investigations subcommittee. Bobby soon got into a long-running argument with the subcommittee's chief counsel, Roy Cohn.

In early 1954, Bobby became minority counsel for the subcommittee, which was then controlled by the Republicans and headed by Sen. Joseph McCarthy.

During the explosive days of the Army-McCarthy hearings, Mr. Kennedy's competitive spirit reached such a high pitch that he and Mr. Cohn almost fought it out in public with their fists.

Since the congressional elections of 1954, when the Democrats took over Congress and the committee, Mr. Kennedy has been chief counsel. Much to the surprise of those who remember vividly the antagonism displayed during the Army - McCarthy hearings, Mr. Kennedy has since won high praise from Sen. McCarthy.

Mr. Kennedy, guided by the subcommittee chairman, Sen. John McClellan, has done the spadework that knocked out of government such high officials as Secretary of the Army Harold Talbott and more recently, Assistant Secretary of Defense Robert Tripp Ross.

DURING ALL these investigations, young Kennedy has had a quiet backer in the audience—his wife, the former Ethel Shakel of Greenwich, Conn.

She expects to be present at all the public hearings on labor racketeering, which are expected to last at least a year.

The hearings, some of which will be televised, undoubtedly will make a public figure of the boyish Kennedy. This has led to speculation that Bobby will soon be ready to try his hand at elected office, possibly first for the House and then for the governorship of Massachusetts.

Mr. Kennedy, himself, says he has no political ambition.

Says his wife:

"I think he just means he has no idea yet just what he wants to do. I would love him to go into politics."

Back in Fryingpan

By Raymond Moley

In his budget message, which grows more unpopular by the day, the President again recommended the authorization of the so-called Fryingpan-Arkansas Transmountain Diversion project.

This preposterous plan for wasting taxpayers' money has been defeated twice in the House. It is probably the most questionable reclamation project every proposed to Congress.

It is a plan to gather water from the sources of the Colorado River in the high Rockies and, by a series of canals and a tunnel through the mountains, to dump that water into the Arkansas in the general region of Pueblo.

This will augment the Arkansas, provide for some hydroelectric projects (in a state producing coal, gas, and shale oil) and for municipal water for some towns and cities.

Principally, however, the extra water will be used for supplemental irrigation in the Arkansas valley in southeastern Colorado.

THE ESTIMATED COST is 160 million dollars but if we are to judge by the experience of the Big Thompson Transmountain project in Northern Colorado, the actual cost may be as high as 500 million.

The farms to be benefited number about 900 and it is calculated that the actual cost of putting supplemental water on those farms will be $500 an acre.

As is always the case with estimates of the Bureau of Reclamation, there are specious and indefensible bookkeeping rigmaroles to justify this.

In the so-called "benefit-cost ratio" the beneficial effects of this project alone are considered and balanced against the cost in dollars.

Even on that basis some of the claimed benefits are spurious. But the real deception is that the alleged benefits are not balanced against the undeniable damage to the legitimate users of the water west of the mountains. This would be very great.

The Colorado River provides a large part of the veritable life blood of the vast civilization in the valley, including western Colorado, Utah, Arizona, and southern California.

Every drop of this water, other than that going into Mexico under treaty, is essential to the life and growth of that civilization.

-:-

IT IS RELIABLY claimed already that the supply flowing from the mountains into the river is less than it was estimated to be at the time of the interstate agreement in the 1920's. To diminish that supply now would be a grevious threat to the entire Colorado valley.

Even on the west slope of the mountains in Colorado the injury would be very serious. It would diminish the supply of water for agriculture but what is more important, also for future mining and industrial potential.

In that valley and extending many miles to the north into Wyoming is the greatest supply of shale oil in America, estimated at 75 billion barrels.

The wry jest is that just as one bureau of the Interior Department was putting on pressure for the Fryingpan plan, another, the Bureau of Mines was operating a pilot plant on the Colorado at Rifle to develop methods of extracting oil from shale. There also are vast deposits of uranium in the valley, a latent source of a great industry.

The pity is that the President, with what must have been very bad advice indeed (mostly political), would favor this scheme when his own Department of Agriculture has presented plenty of evidence that it is not needed even for the eastern slope.

That department proposes instead the proper control and regulation of the present flow of water in the Arkansas, which already has considerable floods at certain seasons of the year.

IT IS POINTED OUT that there are vast supplies of underground water beneath the Arkansas which could be pumped for use at a cost which would be trifling when compared with the Fryingpan project.

A final mark of the ridiculous character of this proposal is that this effort to stimulate the production of farms is going on while vast acreage is being put out of cultivation through the soil bank in other parts of the country, even in Colorado itself.

This business of paying for the reduction of production and also for the increase of production could occur only in the Alice in Wonderland of politics.

If the House of Representatives really means to cut the President's indefensible budget, here is a place to begin.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

All Done by Hibiscus

We are back from our winter-resort vacation and will now try to get a little rest and relaxation. It was as dazzling, wonderful, exciting, eye - opening and delightful as any approach to exhaustion could possibly be.

Don't be fooled by our sunburn and tall stories. We are done in, worn out, nerve frazzled, jumpy and in need of such restoratives and tonics as furnace troubles, ice on the porch and the weather prediction "Tomorrow much colder, with possible snow" can give a man.

A WINTER RESORT is a privilege and a joy. But it feels good when it is over. Unless you think man's greatest invention is the beach cabana, that traffic congestion is okay if it happens amidst palm trees and that the sound of a tourist bashing your rear bumper is sweet against a background of oleanders, poinsettas, hibiscus and other tropical flowers.

Our month "away from it all" was spent in Florida, where the growth is more fantastic each season, where the landscape changes are sheer magic from month to month and where a half dozen skyscraper hotels can grow where only one brief real-estate huddle grew before.

THE BOOM is sweeping all the way northward along the Florida east coast.

"Projects to the right of him, projects to the left of him, into the valley of sunshine, super motels, horse tracks, dog ovals, fantastic growth and orange juice rode the pop-eyed tourist."

No state in the Union is building new and adequate highways faster, but you can't observe the endless lines of autos without wondering if the rest of the country is being evacuated.

Thousands of tourists observing thousands of other tourists hell bent for Florida give voice nervously to one question: "Who's minding the store?"

IN THE AREA from Miami to some distance above Fort Lauderdale the traffic jams make the rush hour tie-ups in New York, Chicago and even Boston seem minor. Down by the Gulf Stream the worst drivers on earth stage a traffic rodeo which only vigilant cops who "ain't" fooling keep under control.

Every community is alert to the situation. Sensing that the traffic jam can do it no good, each one is either building or planning new causeways, new bridges and a network of new roads as if under the slogan "Cheaper by the dozen."

For the growing pains are acute. In Florida today's latest development can be tomorrow's forgotten community. Life to the visitor is one visual knockout after another.

And every real-estate man seems to be rushing from today's blueprints to tomorrow's.

Florida is a super production inside a dream world. Its cry is, "What next?" And its motto, "Eat, swim, be merry and buy that lot before it goes up." Mom, fetch the tired blood medicine It was just great but we feel all in.

Car Stoned at Birmingham

Advocate of Integration Threatened in Alabama

BIRMINGHAM, Ala (AP) — A white man who has publicly advocated integration of the races was threatened and his car stoned by an angry crowd of white persons at Birmingham's Terminal Station Wednesday.

Lamar Weaver, a steelworker, had gone to the station to see a Negro minister and his wife off on a trip He later was fined in Traffic Court on a charge of reckless driving, resulting from his efforts to flee the angry crowd

Ordered To Leave

Weaver sat with the Negro couple in a white waiting room until a large crowd of white persons assembled Police ordered Weaver and others having no business in the station to leave

The Rev F L Shuttlesworth and his wife left Birmingham by train for Atlanta Shuttlesworth previously had said he intended to sit in the station's white waiting room

The terminal station maintains two waiting rooms in an effort to comply both with local customs and an Interstate Commerce Commission ban on segregating interstate passengers

One is designated "for white and interstate passengers" and Negroes have been barrerd from it in the past The other is maintained for use of Negro passengers

The Shuttlesworths were in the waiting room for about 1½ hours, under a heavy police guard

Is Followed After Leaving

Weaver was followed by more than a score of shouting white men, most of them cursing him, when he left the station

He reached his car unharmed and prepared to drive away when some of the crowd rocked it back and forth, apparently attempting to overturn it The car was stoned, some of its windows were broken

Weaver backed into a parked car and drove through a red traffic light leaving the scene He drove to police headquarters and asked for an immediate trial, explaining he planned to leave Birmingham

City Judge Oliver B Hall fined him $25 and court costs on a charge of reckless driving

Shuttlesworth was the leader of mass violations of the city's bus segregation ordinances last December

Jesus Loved Them

By Patrick and Garrison

JOHN The Apostle

"When Jesus therefore saw his mother, and the disciple standing by, whom he loved, he saith unto his mother, Woman, behold thy son!'

—John XIX 26

Whatever distinctions or commendable attributes the other apostles may have had, it was John whom Jesus loved with the intimate, understanding affection of brother, companion, and trustworthy friend

At the Last Supper, John was seated not only next to Jesus, but leaned his head upon the Master's breast And in the agonized hour of His death, looking down upon the little group of faithful who had followed Him even to the Cross, Jesus commits His mother to the care of John

Again, it was the beloved disciple who first recognized the resurrected Jesus on the Sea of Galilee, when He appeared in the morning twilight on the dim shore.

John was a son of Zebedee, an apparently well-to-do fisherman of Bethsaida Jesus nicknamed him and James, his brother, Boanerges, meaning "Sons of Thunder"

Such a designation should serve to dispel the impression that might be given of John by early Christian art, which often depicts him as of a passive, meek, almost epicene nature

In the face of extreme persecution by a group headed by Saul of Tarsus, John resolutely stood his ground The Scripture tells of his presence in Jerusalem 15 years after Saul's (later Paul) first visit to that city

John's later history is not recounted in the New Testament But according to tradition, he left Jerusalem and went to Ephesus It is said that during the reign of Domitian, he was arrested and taken to Rome, and later sent into exile on the Isle of Patmos

It was while there, apocryphal accounts say, that he was given the visions of the last days, part of which he wrote down in his Book of the Revelation

It is conjectured that he lived to an extreme old age, the dates of his death having been set variously from A D 89 to A D 120.

Britain Seeks More Time on Loan Payment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has been asked to approve postponement by Britain of up to seven annual payments on billions of dollars in loans from the United States

A few hours after President Eisenhower sent the request to Capitol Hill Wednesday, the Canadian government announced in Ottawa it will allow Britain to defer payments for a similar period on a Canadian loan of $1,180,000,000

Last December the British made a payment of $57 180 000 on the principal, but asked for deferement of an 82 million-dollar interest payment, also due at that time They set aside the 82 millions pending outcome of their request

British payments previously ran about 120 million dollars a year on the loan and about 20 millions on the lend lease debt, including interest and principal

Counting the most recent payment, the outstanding principal now totals around $4,060,800,000

The need for a broader knowledge of the civil defense program and the part young people can play should their community be attacked by an enemy highlighted talks by Col. L. H Larsen and Capt. Don Allen, guest speakers at a meeting of the Luther League of Emanuel Lutheran Church Tuesday night in the league room.

Business included election of officers, naming of volunteers to serve at the Blood Center March 13, and plans for attending a five-day leadership training school at Capital University, Columbus, in July. A box social was a social feature of the meeting and later there was a recreation period.

Karen Petrich was elected president; Nancy Bodell, vice president; Jim Rish, secretary, and Dick Mitton, treasurer. Tom Quaintance served as auctioneer for the box social, a project of the finance committee. Jack Kerr, president, introduced Robert Peach, Arnold Burnside and Mrs. Pat Waldbauer, new members of the advisory board.

The seriousness of the world situation and the job of civilians in defense were emphasized by the guest speakers. The young people were told that "no matter where in the United States you live you have a definite obligation to learn, know and be prepared." They were urged to learn all they can about first aid "because each young person will be called upon in the event of a local attack, to care for not only himself and his family but others." There would not be enough doctors and nurses should the city be called upon to care for evacuees from other cities. Marion, it was explained, would be required to take the equivalent of one family per number of rooms in a house and care for them for an indefinite time

The speakers deplored the indifference of Marion citizens to the civilian defense program and pointed out that the city is in a strategic area, citing as important targets the railroads, Marion Engineer Depot, and local industries.

Sandy Hooper was in charge of the opening and closing devotions. Reports showed 106½ hours of service given by the young people to the church and community during February. Volunteers for the visit of the Bloodmobile Unit next Wednesday are Bruce Williams, Ron Rish, Jim and John Kantzer It was announced the baby sitting service will include caring for the children during church services.

Florida's High Court Invokes States' Rights

U.S. High Tribunal's Orders Overruled in Negro Student's Case

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) —The Florida Supreme Court today invoked states' rights to deny Virgil Hawkins, Daytona Beach Negro, immediate admission to the University of Florida law school.

The state tribunal's order came down almost a year after the U.S. Supreme Court ruled that Hawkins was entitled to prompt admission to the all-white university.

In its 5-2 opinion, the state court said it could not conceive that the U. S. Supreme Court "would hold that the highest court of a sovereign state does not have the right to control the effective date of its own discretionary process."

State Court's Position

The state Supreme Court said that while it was refusing at this time to order Hawkins' admission to the University of Florida, the action was taken without prejudice to his rights to come before the court again "when he is prepared to present testimony showing that his re-admission can be accomplished without doing great 'public mischief.'"

Hawkins, 49 - year - old faculty member at Bethune - Cookman College at Daytona Beach, has been trying for about eight years to gain admission to the all-white university.

The majority opinion said the state court's appointment of a commissioner last year to take testimony to determine when Hawkins' admission to the university could be accomplished without trouble was based upon two grounds — one state and one federal.

Cites 'Traditional Power'

The opinion said the state grounds was "the exercise of our traditional power as a state court to decline to issue the extraordinary writ of mandamus if to do so would tend to work a serious public mischief."

The federal ground, the state court said, was the so - called implementation decree of the U.S. Supreme Court in which local tribunals were given the authority to determine when segregation would end in local public schools.

Justice E. K. Roberts, who wrote the majority opinion, said that when the U. S. Supreme Court last year ruled that the implementation decree did not affect graduate professional schools and there was no reason for delay in admitting Hawkins that the "last legal prop that supported in part our 1955 decision" was cut off.

But he said that the U.S. Supreme Court in the same opinion stated that Hawkins' petition for review was denied. He said this presumably referred to the Florida courts' decision to appoint the commissioner to take evidence as to when the Negro could be admitted and that the state ruling still stood.

The state court said that despite recent decisions which appeared to infringe upon states' rights "We cannot attribute to the Supreme Court an intention to abrogate the rule which denies to federal courts the right to regulate or control long established rule of practice and procedure adopted by state courts for the administration of justice therein."

The Florida court added "We cannot assume that the Supreme Court intended to deprive the highest court of an independent sovereign state of one of its traditional powers, that is the right to exercise a sound judicial discretion as to the date of the issuance of its process in order to prevent a serious public mischief."

Missionary Is Released, Will Stay in China

HONG KONG (AP)—An American Lutheran missionary freed after five years' imprisonment and house arrest in Red China said today he wants to stay there to "find out what it's all about."

The Rev. Paul J. Mackensen Jr., 32, a bachelor from Baltimore, was freed Thursday after serving a term for "acts threatening the security" of Red China. The Communists still hold four Americans in prison and five in the Shanghai house where the Lutheran had been kept since last summer.

The missionary said in a telephone conversation from Shanghai that he had undergone "a certain amount of education" while confined and had "learned something of the program for social changes taking place in China." He added:

"Now I'd like to study what is going on. Whether I agree or not is up to me."

A Lutheran official in Hong Kong said he had not heard directly from the missionary, adding: "As soon as he fully realizes the situation there, I am sure he will want to come out. I hope he does."

The Rev. Mr. Mackensen said the Americans under house arrest were permitted to see each other at all times and were well fed, with a lot of meat and vegetables. He added that "in the main I had very fair treatment."

He declined to say whether the other Americans might be released soon but pointed out that some are near the end of their terms. He added they might get out earlier for good behavior. He said he had what he considered a fair trial by the Communists.

Will Appeal Order

RAVENNA, Ohio (AP)—An order condemning the common pleas courtroom in the 150 - year - old Portage County Courthouse as a fire hazard will be appealed, Judge Albert L. Caris said here Thursday. The county has 10 days in which to appeal the order issued by the Ohio Department of Industrial Relations.

Unless something is done, Judge Caris said, jury trials scheduled for April will have to be postponed. It would cost $75,000 to $100,000 to make the building safe, construction men estimated.

To Hear Rayburn

SALEM, Ohio (AP)—Sam Rayburn of Texas, veteran speaker of the House of Representatives, is scheduled to speak here May 4 at the annual Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner, Don R. Gosney, Columbiana County Democratic chairman, said today.

Eight presidents of the United States were born in Virginia. Seven were born in Ohio.

the political delay. First predictions had been that the job would take five or six months.

Canal Still Closed To Israel Shipping

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Egyptian officials reiterated today that Israeli ships are barred from using the Suez Canal.

The Egyptian government's position is that it still is technically at war with Israel, even though it signed an armistice in 1949. The ban on Israeli shipping was in effect long before the Israeli and French - British attack on Egypt last fall.

The owner of a Dutch coaster, the 499-ton Vidala, has protested against seizure of his cargo bound for the Israeli port of Haifa. Up to now the protest to Egyptian authorities has produced no result. The Vidala has been held at Suez since October.

The Suez Canal Authority offices were closed today and there was no confirmation of reports that it would demand payment of all tolls to Egypt—including tolls for passage of British and French ships—when the canal is open to normal shipping. Before the canal was closed, the Egyptians claimed the right to the tolls, but permitted them to be paid into accounts blocked in London and Paris.

Sid Caesar's Third TV Wife Will Leave Show

NEW YORK (AP) — Janet Blair, Sid Caesar's third television wife, says she is bowing out of the comedian's TV show at the end of this season, June 15.

Miss Blair, who replaced Nanette Fabray in Caesar's Hour, said Thursday she was leaving the program because her role was not big enough. She added:

"My association with Sid personally has been completely cordial This is purely a professional split."

Caesar could not be reached for comment.

Held in Child Abuse

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Mary A. Cunningham, 29, Columbus, is in custody today, police said, after admitting she burned two of her young sons with a "red hot" butcher knife because she "caught them playing with fire." She is charged with child abuse.

The boys, Michael, 5, and Richard, 2, are being cared for in nearby Franklin Village. Michael was severely burned three or four times on the neck and on the back of his hands, and Richard was burned less seriously on the finger tips, police said.

Marion Area Auto Mishaps

A Delaware driver and a passenger in his auto sustained minor injuries in the single accident investigated by patrolmen of the local post Thursday. The mishap occurred on Route 23 about one mile south of Marion at 10 p.m.

A car driven by Walter E. Balch, 38, of Delaware, swerved to the right to avoid striking an auto which had just pulled out of a private drive in front of him, the report indicated.

In swerving, it struck a stopped car driven by Alfred Firestone, 60, of 1090 E. Church St., waiting to enter the highway.

Extensive damage was done to both vehicles. Balch received a bruised elbow, and a passenger, Cleo Robinson, 57, of Delaware a bruised forehead. Neither was treated, patrolmen said.

Passenger in Car Hurt

One person was injured in three traffic accidents investigated Thursday by Marion police.

The injury accident occurred in the 200 block on N. Main St. at 5:26 p.m. A car driven by Mrs. Florence F. Tiffland, 58, of near Waldo was struck from the rear by a car driven by Lee Gilbert, 20, of the Travelers Hotel.

Injured in the accident was George Mason, also of the hotel. A passenger in the Gilbert car, he suffered injuries to his right hand and to an ankle and was taken to General Hospital for treatment.

Each of the other accidents caused less than $100 in total damage, police estimated.

Robbery

tempt to follow, according to the police report.

Outside the door, both robbers turned to run and nearly knocked down John Cronin, 16, of 191 Klerx St. who was just entering the store. He saw that "something was wrong" and ran after the pair and saw them get in a car on Main St. and drive off at a high rate of speed toward the south, the police report said.

Police theorized today that the two men probably were transients. The smaller one was described as weighing about 135 pounds with blond hair and the larger one weighed about 180 pounds, had black hair and was from 25 to 27 years old, according to the report to police.

Inquiry

of Portland night club owner Nathan Zusman.

Chairman McClellan (D - Ark) made the announcement as the special Senate committee investigating racketeering opened its eighth day of hearings.

The committee is investigating alleged efforts by the Western Conference of Teamsters to control politics and vice in Portland.

Zusman demanded the test after denying testimony of Mrs. Helen (Big Helen) Hardy, who said he encouraged her to join with "Little Helen" Smalley in opening a "call house."

Thursday the investigation centered around allegations that Democratic Mayor Terry D. Schrunk of Portland had accepted $500 to stop a raid on a gambling joint while he was sheriff of Multnomah County (Portland). The establishment, known as the 8212 Club, was operated by Clifford Bennett.

James B. Elkins, acknowledged former boss of Portland's underworld who had an interest in the club, testified he provided Bennett with a $1,500 "bankroll." Bennett returned $1,000 to him, Elkins said, and when asked about the other $500, stated that it had been paid to Schrunk.

Bennett refused to answer any questions before the committee and was ordered cited for contempt.

Crestline Driver Cited After Crawford Crash

BUCYRUS — A Crestline driver was cited to appear before Mayor Albert Smith of Crestline to answer a charge of unsafe operation today after he was involved in the single non-injury accident investigated by patrolmen of the Bucyrus post Thursday.

The mishap occurred on Route 30-N six miles east of Bucyrus at 7:25 a.m. when the eastbound auto driven by Reece Bowen, 59, attempted to pass another vehicle as it was approaching a curve, patrolmen said.

While in the left lane, the Bowen auto went into a skid and swerved sideways into the path of the car driven by Earl Vansoder, 33, of Hicksville The Vansoder vehicle unavoidably struck the right front end of the Bowen auto, the report indicated. Minor damage was done to both autos.

O'Neill Attack Answered by School Group

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. C. William O'Neill's statement that the State Board of Education was "unwieldly and not effective" has drawn strong protests from state school officials.

Robert A. Manchester, board president, said Thursday the governor was "absolutely wrong." R. M. Eyman, acting state superintendent, said the board was a "cooperative group with many accomplishments."

O'Neill told newsmen Wednesday that, in his opinion, "the present board has not accomplished what it should and has been unwieldly and not effective."

A bill to establish a seven-member board appointed by the governor has been introduced in the House. Bills establishing a nine-member board are pending in both houses.

Manchester said it was not fair to criticize the board for not selecting a permanent state superintendent of public instruction in the year it has been in operation.

Manchester said the board's first choice, Milwaukee school superintendent Dr. Harold Vincent, withdrew after a question was raised about the constitutionality of his appointment.

Manchester told a Senate Education Committee hearing Wednesday that the board was hampered in its attempts to pick a superintendent because of doubts concerning the board's power to fix the term and salary of the official.

Delaware Youth Held In Theft of 2 Hub Caps

A 19-year-old Delaware County youth was being held today by Marion police for investigation of petty larceny in the theft of two hub caps from a car in Marion on Jan. 22.

The owner of the car, Charles Sedlock of 514 Oak St., called police early today and told them he had spotted the hub caps on a car parked at the rear of a W. Center St. restaurant.

Police investigated and arrested the 19-year-old youth. They said he later admitted taking the hub caps from Mr. Sedlock's car while it was parked on the Ripley Motor Co. lot on Jan. 22 awaiting repairs.

State St. The other woman arrested at the same time was Ramona G. Hiblett, 28, of 124 Patten St. The charge against her was dropped because of lack of evidence. Both were arrested Feb. 21 on N. Main St. by city police.

ter with large doses of the virus. It increases their resistance to lymphomatosis about 5,000 times, Dr. Burmester said.

Also Have Immunity

Chickens hatched from eggs laid by vaccinated hens also have immunity. However, the level of their resistance to cancer is not high enough to warrant their being called completely protected, the virologist added.

The present material is too strong to be given to chicks. Dr. Burmester said he is trying to develop a milder preparation that can be given newly hatched birds that will give them fairly good protection until they mature and acquire a degree of resistance that comes naturally with age.

Although there is a resemblance between chicken lymphomatosis and the human leukemias, which are cancer-like diseases of blood cells, there is no danger to humans from contact with chickens having the disease.

But there is enough similarity in the human and chicken disease states to warrant the belief that if a virus ever is found to be the cause of human leukemia it will open up the possibility of a preventive vaccine, Dr. Burmester said.

Two Trucks Damaged In Crash Near Delaware

DELAWARE — A truck towing another went out of control on Route 36 eight miles west of Delaware at 3 p.m. Thursday and the entire rig turned over on its side, blocking the highway, Delaware patrolmen reported today.

Considerable damage reportedly was done to the body of both panel trucks. The driver received head lacerations and bruises and was treated by a local doctor.

Off-Street Parking Committee Meets With City Officials

Various problems concerning establishment of additional off-street parking lots in Marion were discussed Thursday night at a meeting of members of City Council and the "Steering Committee for Off-Street Parking."

Only action taken was tentatively to authorize Safety-Service Director R. Guy Bigelow to contact owners of various possible sites for off-street parking lots to obtain quotations for sale or lease of the properties.

Before Mr. Bigelow may do so, a ruling is necessary from the city solicitor to determine whether or not the city may legally lease property for off-street parking. Solicitor Riley Hall presently is out of town.

Purpose of the off-street parking lots would be to help provide parking facilities for persons wanting to shop in downtown Marion and also would help make possible traffic improvements to help reduce congestion. Among the proposed improvements is the establishment of right turn lanes, which would require the abandonment of a number of existing curb parking spaces.

Councilmen attending the meeting were: R. G. Haldeman, Richard Lister and John Courtright, all councilmen-at-large; Herman Rinehart, Third Ward; Ralph Williams, Fourth Ward; John Corwin, Fifth Ward; James Jenkins, Second Ward, and Emmett Osterholt, Sixth Ward.

Businessmen members of the off-street parking committee attending were: Robert Bintz, John Isaly, Robert Murphy, Smith Witter, Howard Ryan, Francis Huber, John Watters and Jack Lautenslager.

BUCYRUS — Residents of the Holmes - Liberty School District, northwest of here, indicated in a straw vote conducted Wednesday they favor inauguration of a building program at the school to relieve present crowded conditions.

Only 216 of the 800 eligible voters in the district participated in the informal balloting held at the school's workshop. A total of 160 indicated they favored a local building program while 56 voted for merger talks with surrounding schools.

The straw vote was authorized by the school board to sound out the feelings of the residents concerning building expansion or consolidation.

Method Found To Ease Final Cancer Agony

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A method of relieving pain in dying cancer patients without the use of narcotics or brain operations was announced today by two Texas medical researchers.

The procedure requires the injection of a small amount of pure alcohol in the spinal cord. A single treatment can banish pain for three to six months, said Dr. Richard C. Hay and Dr. William Derrick of the M. D. Anderson Hospital here.

Dr. Hay and Dr. Derrick described the results of 81 cases to the 11th annual Symposium on Fundamental Cancer Research. The meeting is sponsored by the hospital and the medical branch of the University of Texas.

Intractable pain is one of the worst features of the final stage of cancer. Narcotics relieve the agony for a while but eventually the patient becomes so tolerant of the drugs that they do little good.

The alcohol treatment was effective in all but five of the cases, the physicians said.

Treasury Secretary Confident U.S. Budget Can Be Safely Cut

DETROIT (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey says he is confident substantial cuts can be made in President Eisenhower's new 72-billion-dollar budget without impairing security or public services.

But, he told a Republican fund-raising dinner Wednesday night, the cuts would have to come from changes in programs by Congress.

"We have asked Congress to cooperate with us," in trimming Eisenhower's proposed budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1, Humphrey said. "It is doing so in its actions on appropriations bills."

He said while some savings can always be made by "ferreting out waste, extravagance and duplication, the really substantial reductions in government spending can come only from changes to programs. . . by new decisions of Congress."

Humphrey's views, however, were at variance with Budget Director Percival Brundage. Brundage said in Washington that he saw little hope for substantial cuts in federal spending for at least two years.

Radio and Television

By JOHN CROSBY

The Shut-In

For years I have been hearing about what television does for the shut-ins, how they could hardly exist without it. Well, for the last week or so I have been a shut-in and I must say television is certainly indispensable. Here it is 7:45 a.m. in the hospital and I am waiting for breakfast and on Channel 4 there is a ballet to keep me distracted.

JOHN CROSBY

What would I do for ballet before breakfast if it weren't for television? What indeed? When you stop to think that for years and years people had to get along without ballet before breakfast, you wonder how on earth they managed.

Now the ballet is over and I'm being told that it is 52 degrees in Okay, Ark.; 22 in Harrisburg and 4 below in Superior, Wis. I would have had to get along without any of this information if David Sarnoff hadn't been invented.

Now they have close order drill in Philadelphia on Channel 4. And more and more I feel like the little girl who reviewed a book with the words: "This book tells me more about penguins than I want to know."

RCA HAS BEEN kind enough to equip me with one of these gadgets that turn the set on, adjust the sound and—well does everything—all from your bed. It is a marvelous gadget all right and one of its greatest wonders—and one not dwelt upon nearly enough in the advertisements—is that it not only turns the darn thing on, but it also turns it off. This is a blessing not to be dismissed when you are, as I am, a captive audience.

There are patients in this hospital who have to summon a nurse to turn the set on and—far more importantly—summon her again to turn it off when something especially repulsive shows up.

I am already too much in bondage to the nurses. I can't, for instance, brush my teeth without their assistance. They have to go get the tooth brush and the bowl. But I can choose between Ed Sullivan and Steve Allen without consulting the nurses, without having to explain myself. Thank God for that.

I HAVE ENOUGH trouble explaining to myself why I am looking at a particular television show, without having to put it in words for the nurses. They're full of their own opinions and the first thing you know you have an argument on your hands—and I'm supposed to be in here for a rest.

There is a phrase called "captive audience," which has been kicked around a good deal but is widely misunderstood. Theoretically, television has me at its mercy now that I'm flat on my back—but so long as that little knob that turns the set off is there, it hasn't. However, a patient is a captive audience to his nurse. No knob has yet been invented that can turn her off.

Just the other day, a nurse was crawling under the bed looking for my blood pressure—I think they threw my blood pressure out with the bath water—and she fell to telling me how hard it was on patients simply to listen.

Visitors, she said, were a terrible strain on the patients because all that talk; talk, talk demanded actual physical exertion to listen to. She developed this theme brilliantly—namely, that listening was hard physical work—and it went on for about 40 minutes. It ended with the advice not to have any visitors because they would be too much of a strain on me. And —at that moment—anything would have been.

AND THEN THERE was the lab technician who was doing something or other to my insides —I think she was practicing post mortems—who told me about another kind of visitor who should be avoided:

"They tell horror stories to patients about their own medical history and the medical history of their friends," she declared. "Imagine! They seem to have no idea how this upsets the patient. Why just the other day, a visitor told a patient of mine the most terrible story about an operation." She told it to me and it was a terrible story all right and should never have been told to a patient. I tell you you can't be too careful about your visitors.

If you haven't been a shut-in for a while, I think you ought to be warned that there is a brand new mood among the "get well" cards. They're all irrepressibly gay this season.

"Beds may be charming for something, it's true,

"But certainly not to be sick in, like you."

-:-

THAT'S ONE OF the more roguish ones. Another said simply: "Your doctor is a quack." And still another said, "Weak? Listless? No appetite? Run down? Me too!" In short, the greeting card people flatly refuse to take my illness seriously. Well, I don't take it very seriously myself, but I don't think it's at all nice of the greeting card people to take it so lightly.

"Oh, it's nothing, really. Nothing at all." But that's my line. Let the greeting card people think of solmething else. How the devil can a man be properly jaunty, devil-may-care, we'll-take-what-fate-has-in-store-with-chin up, if the cards have beat him to the punch?

Striking Union Sued by Eaton For $3 Million

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Eaton Manufacturing Co. seeks 1½ million dollars in each of two suits filed Wednesday against the Mechanics Education Society of America and its members on strike at the company's axle division.

One suit was filed in federal court against MESA and its Local 21 under provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act which make unions liable for damage for breach of contract.

The other, naming the same union and 22 national and local officers as individuals, was filed in Cuyahoga County Common Pleas Court.

The union represents 1,600 Eaton employes who walked out Feb 15 protesting the company's suspension for two weeks of two union shop committeemen for alleged violation of plant visiting rules A proposal to end the walkout was turned down by the union Tuesday.

Eaton charges in each court action that the strike is in violation of an agreement between MESA and the company reached Oct. 12.

Boost Is Asked In Postal Rates

Administration Puts Plan Before Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—Once again the Eisenhower administration has asked Congress to raise postal rates to ease a postal operating deficiency

Its recommendations Thursday did not go as far as had been expected Previously, administration officials had indicated they would request a boost from 3 to 5 cents in the price of a letter stamp

However, Postmaster General Summerfield called for a 4 cent first class rate and increases from 6 to 7 cents for airmail 2 to 3 cents for post cards, 4 to 5 cents for air post cards

The proposals also would mean rate increases for second class mail, newspapers and magazines third class mail advertising matter and books sent by fourth class mail

Summerfield said the proposed increases would produce additional revenues of about 527½ million dollars annually by 1961

GE President Addresses Chicago Businessmen

CHICAGO (AP) — The president of the General Electric Co today urged businessmen to meet social and political responsibilities with the same energy and effectiveness they now give their material work

Ralph J Cordiner told the Executives Club of Chicago that "the public is no longer astonished or even satisfied with outstanding economic performance"

"Increasingly the people expect business not only to satisfy their material wants and desires," he said in a prepared address, "but also to satisfy a whole range of psychological and ethical expectations"

Jaycee Group Endorses Plan For New Pool

The Junior Chamber of Commerce, at its monthly business meeting held at the YMCA Thursday night, endorsed the new community swimming pool and encouraged the people of Marion to give their hearty support to the "worthwhile community project," Williams Rawlins, president, reported today.

In other business the group elected Paul Bell Jr. to fill an unexpired term on the board of directors left by Joe Drake who resigned to accept the treasurer's position. The latter post was vacated last month when Wilmer Smith left Marion.

Three new members were accepted into the club and welcomed by the president who led the group in the Junior Chamber of Commerce creed. New members are William Freeman, James Williams and Donne Pearson.

During the presentation of committee reports, Mr. Bell announced that plans are nearly completed for the teen-age rodeo which will be held early in May at the new shopping center's parking lot on W. Center St.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market declined slightly early this afternoon in the dullest session of the week.

Key stocks were off fractions to around a point but steeper losses appeared in aircrafts.

No particularly selling pressure appeared in any group, however. The international oils eased despite the scheduled completion today of Israeli withdrawal from Egyptian territory and rosier prospects for resumption of oil shipments through the Suez Canal.

United Aircraft tumbled around three points. Boeing, General Dynamics and Glenn L. Martin were all down a point or more.

American Telephone bucked the trend with a gain of about a point.

News of merger discussions between Underwood and National Cash Register put the spotlight on both stocks. Underwood added a point to its gain of 1⅝ Thursday before the news was out. National was about unchanged after posting a ¾ rise Thursday.

Down around a point or more were U. S. Gypsum, Anaconda, Kennecott, International Nickel, and Youngstown.

U. S. government bonds improved.

Mount Gilead Gets New Fire Engine At Cost of $13,641

MOUNT GILEAD — Mount Gilead Village's new $13,641 fire truck was delivered last week and officially accepted following tests. Actual work of installing equipment was completed last Saturday.

Members of the local Volunteer Fire Department will complete familiarization on the truck this week and it will be placed in operation soon. The engine was purchased from the Seagrave Corp. on specifications drawn up by assistant Fire Chief Paul Swisher.

Mr. Swisher said the department had anticipated the need for a new truck about four years ago and had set aside appropriations each year. A total of $5,000 was accumulated this way. The remainder of the purchase price was a gift to the village from the Morrow County Foundation.

The new truck along with the truck purchased in 1949 and the more recently purchased emergency truck will make the local department one of the best equipped volunteer departments in the area.

The truck replaces an old Seagrave pumper which was purchased in 1929

The new truck has a 750 gallon midship type pump, the largest in the county. It has a capacity of 500 gallons, same as the pumper purchased by the village in 1949. An overhead ladder mount with a 45 foot ladder is contained on the new truck.

SEC for Labor

By Victor Riesel

That handful of bold and bawdy teamsters and their friends, who are trying so hard to prove that the house of labor is not a home, may yet make their point with the public. They're taking so many Fifths, they're drunk with arrogance.

VICTOR RIESEL

They're selling public opinion short and the bankruptcy courts are laden with dusty records of forgotten firms which did just that.

It matters not how many west and east coast rallies of teamsters there are. The public just won't believe that labor anywhere is being oppressed by critics who take a dim view of unions with pinball operations and ladies of the night as the usual accouterments of the average labor headquarters.

There are more than 900 teamster locals in the U.S. and hundreds of them are led by decent men who won't touch a dirty dollar or a penny from the shady lady trade and games of chance, like they say.

There are also some 59,000 other local unions and over 485,000 union officers — and I'm proud to call many of them my friends, even if we call each other names from time to time.

BUT NOW the small percentage of muscle - minded men — who think we persecute them because the Senate, the Justice Department, and the Treasury Department take a dim view of the union label on lewdness — have started their counter-offensive.

They are calling together their trusted spear-carriers and are defying the world. They charge that the Senate probe is "persecution."

Well, is there an honest and self-respecting teamster who can step forward and say that he has been persecuted or exploited?

Since there obviously won't be a clean-up from inside some unions, it will come from without — the Congress. The problem now, say seven of the most hard - hitting critics of certain labor activities, is to prevent public anger from creating an atmosphere in which laws so tough will be passed that all labor will suffer.

That, incidentally, is Sen. Barry Goldwater's position and he by no means is one who runs with a handkerchief every time Walter Reuther or George Meany sneezes.

If Sen. Goldwater, certainly a critic of many labor practices, feels this concern, then there is reason for all labor to make sure that the windows are open in its house.

NOT THAT ANYONE can stop the passage of new labor laws. These will come in 1958. If there is calm — and housecleaning — there will be legislation only in three areas. Sen. Karl Mundt, a member of the Senate elect racket busting committee, sees it this way.

The senator has been talking with his colleagues and they say that first must come the certainty that union members run their own unions.

Sounds fair enough. But there are hundreds of unions under something called "trusteeship".

Ten or 15 years ago the national headquarters of one of the goon-laden outfits didn't like the local leaders somewhere. The national chiefs then removed the local officialdom, seized the records, offices and — members, too. After that there were no meetings, no reports — sometimes not even records.

The national trustees were not responsible to the local folk, only to the Big Fellow.

Gradually these locals were isolated from the membership. The trustees evolved into strangers who collected dues and nobody ever dared ask questions.

NOW SEN. MUNDT and his colleagues want laws which would give a national union the power to police some wayward local union —but only after due process of law is observed and with assurance it will be returned to its citizenry within a reasonable time so it doesn't become just an isolated baronial dues - collecting machine.

The second area for new laws is the welfare and pension field — now piled up with some 25 billion dollars.

The senators want to protect this money, perhaps with laws which regulate insurance companies. Sen. Paul Douglas, of Illinois, has a bill in the hopper which would set up a sort of Securities and Exchange Commission unit to guard this stockpile of dollars.

Sen. Mundt says there must be full public disclosure of what happens to every penny.

-:-

AND FINALLY there is labor's political activity. The senators are appalled at the way some of the union men backed candidates, not on the basis of who would be for better laws for labor but on a personal basis and on a personal political tieup.

Thus the membership was tied to someone pledged to helping the "boys" in their extra-curricular activities.

Due process for all and not the few must come.

Sauerkraut Casserole Will Thrill Youngsters

Here's a kraut and frankfurter casserole that will thrill the youngsters with its ticktacktoe decor.

Hearty and completely satisfying, it will easily appeal to the small fry and result in a most enjoyable meal.

To prepare the kraut casserole, use

4 frankfurters
1 1-pound 3-ounce can sauerkraut, drained
1 canned pimiento, chopped
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
Pimiento strips

Slice 2 frankfurters; reserve 3 slices for garnish. Combine remaining sliced frankfurters, kraut, chopped pimiento, mustard, and butter or margarine; toss lightly and turn into lightly greased 8-inch square baking dish.

Cut remaining 2 frankfurters in half lengthwise; slash lengthwise without cutting through bottom. Arrange over kraut mixture in lattice fashion.

Place remaining 3 frankfurter slices and pimiento strips in ticktacktoe fashion over kraut mixture. Cover and bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) 30 minutes, or until thoroughly heated. Makes 4 servings.

Confidence Is Taught Youths At Story Hour

UPPER SANDUSKY—Many local children gain confidence through their story hour experience to speak before others for the first time.

Mrs. Harold Beyer, a member of the staff at the Upper Sandusky Public Library, making plans for the future story hours, hopes to add more educational activities to the program held once a week in the basement of the library here.

The story hour has been organized for four years. In the beginning in 1953 high school girls read to children during summer vacation.

Last summer an Intermediate Girl Scout troop, under the supervision leader, Mrs. Raymond Hare, read stories to the children for one period a week, for six weeks.

Fifty-four children, mostly in grades one to four, registered in October for the Story Hour. Included in the reading material were "Favorite Stories for Children" and a series of "Little Brown Bear Stories."

The Upper Sandusky mothers clubs have come to the library each week to read to the children during the thirty-five to forty minute periods from October to April.

The library staff including Miss Ellen Matteson, Mrs. Laura Crum, Mrs. Harold Beyer, Mrs. Raymond Hare, Mrs. Joan Booth, and Mrs. Jennie Fitzsimmons will take charge in May. A local school teacher has offered to conduct the story hour during July and August.

According to Mrs. Beyer, the youngsters also return and borrow books as a result of the project.

Pavement Plato

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

Curbstone comments of a pavement Plato:

There was a time when the American dream called for a bathroom in every home, an electric light in every room, a car in every garage and a chicken in every pot.

HAL BOYLE

This was the goal of prosperity, and the hope was that it all could be won by working a 5-day, 40-hour week.

How old-fashioned that dream seems now!

The goal now is two telephones and two television sets in every home, a bathroom for every bedroom, a radio and at least two floor lamps for every room, and at least two cars for every garage. All this is supposed to be achieved now on a 5-day, 35-hour week.

—:—

THE KITCHEN that once contained a single gas stove and an icebox now overflows with an electric stove, an electric oven, a broiler and a refrigerator as big as a closet (the freezer is so big it has to be put in the basement).

Once the American home was kept clean with a dustmop and a broom. Today, it has a dustmop, a broom, a carpet sweeper, and a vacuum cleaner and 37 different kinds of attachments.

Remember the first pioneer in your neighborhood who bought a room air-conditioner? Now it isn't enough to air-condition even the entire house. At least one of the family cars should be airconditioned, too.

Where will it all end?

Why, we aren't even half-way to happiness yet! In the last campaign Vice President Richard Nixon foresaw a day when Americans might work only a 4-day week.

When this day arrives and the nation's long - range, high-speed highway network is completed, other crystal ball gazers foresee the rise of the two-home family—which will shuttle between its dwelling in the city and its weekend refuge in the country.

EACH FAMILY home—the one in the city, the one in the country—will, of course, need a broom, a dustmop, a carpet sweeper, a vacuum cleaner, two telephones, two television sets, a radio and a bathroom for every bedroom, three kinds of stoves, a refrigerator, a freezer, air-conditioners, and a garage that will hold two or three cars.

This automatically will double the present prosperity, as new automatic factories stamp out fresh millions of the material gadgets that spell out America's high standard of living.

But prosperity always has a price tag on it.

One price of the existing prosperity may be reflected in the fact that one out of every two hospital beds in the country is occupied by a mental patient, and one out of every 12 children born today will suffer a mental ailment.

The sale of aspirin has risen steadily with the rise in living standards, and some wag has figured out that for every $40 earned in the United States somebody gets a headache.

THE PRICE OF prosperity — worry—is also shown by the widespread increase of the number of people who are unable to slumber without taking a sleep capsule, and who can't face the duties of the day unless they gulp "happy pills" as if they were peanuts.

Half the people in America who are sick now are sick because they haven't been able to find contentment while surrounded by more creature comforts than any other people in history.

The one-home family now can get by with a single family doctor. If the hypertension, ulcer and heart attack problems are doubled in the one-home family home, the two-home family home probably will require at least two doctors.

Such being the case, if we are to go on madly trying to eat higher and higher on the hog, perhaps the educational goal should be fewer kindergartens and more medical universities to turn out more physicians to write more "happy pill" prescriptions.

Unity Without Force Is Goal For DeValera Administration

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP)—Old revolutionist Eamon de Valera declared today that he will crack down on "private armies" when he takes over as prime minister of the Irish Republic.

His statement obviously was aimed at the outlawed Irish Republican Army (IRA) which would use force to end the separation of the six northern counties—still united with the British crown—from the rest of Ireland. IRA has launched an aggressive campaign of border raids and terrorist attacks in northern Ireland in recent weeks.

With a working majority of 17 to 20 votes in the Irish Dail (Parliament) won in Tuesday's elections, De Valera's election as prime minister for a third time is a foregone conclusion. Parliament meets March 20.

The 74-year-old nearly blind De Valera told a news conference he wants to unite the north and south but armed action by "a group of individuals would lead only to anarchy."

The one-time leader of the uprising to free Ireland from British rule insisted:

"Today we can not permit any private army. We have a free and open Parliament to seek unification of the country."

Kin of Deceased Korean War Veterans May Apply for Bonus

Instructions on the procedure in obtaining Korean War bonus application forms for next of kin of deceased veterans were given today by Chester W. Goble, director of the Korean Conflict Compensation Fund.

The forms, designated as Form 2, must be used by next of kin applying for the bonus of any Korean War veteran who was killed in action, has since died of war-sustained injuries, or has died of natural causes, Mr. Goble pointed out.

The forms may be obtained by writing to C. W. Goble, Director of the Korean Conflict Compensation Fund, 293 E. Long St., Columbus, 15, O., according to the directive from the state office.

Next of kin, Mr. Goble emphasizes, are designated as the surviving wife or husband, children, or parents, in that order. No other kin are eligible for bonus payments. Upon receipt of Form 2, Marion applicants may take it to the Marion Veterans Service Center, 126½ S. Main St., where Mrs. Madeline Tatham, manager of the center, will assist with filling out the 32 blank spaces on the application blank.

Under the law, next of kin of Korean War veterans either killed in action or who have since died of service-incurred injuries may apply for the maximum $400 bonus. If, however, the veteran is deceased of natural causes, the applicant may apply for only that amount of money the veteran would were he alive, normally be entitled to. A total of $10 per month is being paid for domestic service, while $15 is paid for duty overseas.

Form 2 blanks will be mailed from the state office on and after March 11, Mr. Goble noted.

Marion County veterans applying for the bonus themselves will use Form 1. They may call at the service center anytime after 1:30 p.m. Monday, according to Mrs. Tatham, or may obtain the blanks from any one of several local veterans groups who are assisting in the distribution of the applications.

The deadline for filing bonus applications is Dec. 31, 1957.

Tommy Denman was elected to the office of secretary and treasurer when the Waldo Winners 4-H Club met Wednesday night at the home of Shirley Kaelber near Waldo. He fills a vacancy left by the resignation of Judy Klingel.

Eleven members were present and gave the pledge to the flag and the 4-H pledge to open the meeting. Larry Demorest, vice president, presided for the meeting. It was announced future meetings will be held in the old agriculture shop at the school. For entertainment, bunco was played with the award going to Gary McMahan. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Oscar Kaelber.

Man Swears Off Marriage After Seventh Divorce

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Superior Judge Elmer D. Doyle arched an eyebrow and commented: "This must be the record—21 marriages between two people."

Before him Thursday were Mrs. Beverly Avery, 46, and her 13th ex-husband, Raymond J. O'Malley, 41. Mrs. Avery's 14th mate, Gabriel Avery, 46, was with her when she sought $233 back alimony from O'Malley, who informed the court she had been his seventh bride. He said he would pay up and that he never would marry again.

"You mean you've had it?" queried the court.

"I've had it," O'Malley solemnly replied.

Ice Threatens Homes

CLEVELAND (AP) — A combination of a northeasterly wind and current flow was blamed for sending huge slabs of ice grinding to within a few feet of houses on Lake Erie at Eastlake, east of Cleveland Thursday.

The five homes threatened during a 10-minute period when the ice floe came sweeping in were along a drive paralleling the shore in the Chagrin Harbor area.

Victim in Robbery Clings to Gunman Until Help Arrives

CLEVELAND (AP)—Benedict De Rubeis, owner of a confectionery, was beaten on the head with a revolver in a holdup Wednesday night, but managed to grab the gunman and hold him until police arrived.

The holdup man slugged De Rubeis and demanded money. The confectionery owner gave him the contents of a cash register. As he was walking toward a back room he heard a sound which appeared to be the robber's gun misfiring. He turned and chased the man, catching him at the door.

De Rubeis, assisted by a clerk, William Milton, who had been in the back room, beat the robber and held him for police. The holdup man was taken to a hospital with head cuts.

Gruenther Urges Renewed Interest In Foreign Affairs

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Alfred M. Gruenther says Americans must show more interest in foreign affairs or risk losing the cold war to the Russians.

The retired four-star general, former commander of NATO in Europe and now president of the American Red Cross, told a news conference Thursday Soviet Russia operates in "a faster league" than does the United States.

"I am not sure by our tradition or eduction we are able to handle this load—the propaganda battle for men's minds," Gruenther said.

"We are not exercising our full talents in the psychological aspects of the cold war because our basic concern, historically, has been in North America."

African dialects are used by more than 93 million people.

Helped Serve Subpena on Crooner

Policewoman Testifies In Hearing on Sinatra

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A pretty policewoman says she knocked on Frank Sinatra's front door about 4 a.m. last Feb. 16 and called "Daddy," "Darling," "Lover Boy" and "Frankie" in an effort to arouse the crooner.

Mrs. Glory Dawson testified Thursday she was helping two fellow Los Angeles policemen serve a subpena on Sinatra.

When her dulcet entreaties caused no sign of life at Sinatra's darkened dome near Palm Springs, the plainclothesmen entered with a key they found sticking in the door. One said he shined a flashlight in Frankie's eyes and shook him awake while the other officer read the subpena aloud and the crooner sputtered profanity.

Take Depositions

The testimony was given at deposition hearings, which, said Atty. Milton A. Rudin, are intended to determine if the crooner has a cause for action and, if so, whom he should sue.

The subpena—served 100 miles away in another county by Los Angeles police — brought Sinatra to last week's legislative hearings here on private detectives and scandal magazines. He gave his version of the "wrong door" raid which witnesses said was aimed by Joe DiMaggio at his ex-wife Marilyn Monroe, but took them by mistake into another woman's apartment.

The shapely, 31-year-old policewoman, a blue-eyed brunette, testified she was in Palm Springs on vacation when spotted on the street by officer Richard F. Williams.

Asked To Go Along

Williams and officer Gerald A. Holland testified they had been dispatched from Los Angeles in a police car with the subpena.

Williams said he invited Mrs. Dawson to join them so they wouldn't be so conspicuous as policemen.

The three were joined in the police car by the "informant," left unidentified by witnesses, on advice of a deputy city attorney. They visited two night clubs and checked numerous parking lots but found neither Sinatra nor his car, Williams said, so proceeded to his home.

There the informant found a chain of gold keys in the front-door lock, Mrs. Dawson said, adding:

"One had a plaque showing a movie academy award (Oscar) and said 'To Daddy with love from here to eternity.' One said 'Hurry home, darling.' Another said something about 'Lover Boy' on it."

Mrs. Dawson said she knocked and called the names that were on the keys for about three minutes.

Williams testified she remained inside the doorway while the three men went to Sinatra's room.

Williams related that, after Sinatra had awakened, the crooner told him: "If I'd been awake you could have got a bullet in you."

Armed Services Advertising Under Attack by Senator

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Stennis (D-Miss) said today he has a hunch that the various armed services are spending "too much money" on television, billboard and other recruiting advertising.

As acting chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, the former Mississippi judge has asked a detailed Pentagon report on just how much the armed services are spending on their rival drives.

"It seems to me that every time I turn on the TV there is some new appeal for the Navy, the Army, the Air Force or the Marines to join," Stennis said.

A Pentagon information spokesman told a reporter the four major services had spent more than 1½ million dollars during the last half of last year on recruiting advertising, or an annual rate of more than three million dollars.

Study Strike Pact

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Striking members of Lodge 1651, International Assn. of Machinists, will hear today of a tentative agreement reached Thursday with Ranco, Inc.

Federal Mediator George H. Bell said terms of the agreement, reached after eight hours of negotiations, will not be made public until after today's union meeting.

The strike enters its eighth day today. It began when 45 Ranco employes walked off their jobs in a dispute over incentive pay. Since then the strike has spread to about 800 production workers.

Four Players in Struggle for Starting Position as Redlegs' Third Baseman

Tebbetts Fills Seven Spots For Grapefruit Loop Play

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ
Associated Press Staff Writer

Third base looks like a real hot corner for Manager Birdie Tebbets and his Cincinnati Redlegs.

The aggressive Redlegs' skipper has seven positions in his starting lineup set with the start of the spring exhibition games only a day off. But it's anybody's guess who will wind up as regular third baseman.

Four players are scrambling to succeed erratic Ray Jablonski, who was traded to Chicago Cubs last winter.

The quartet includes Alex Grammas, obtained from the St. Louis Cardinals last May; Don Hoak, dealt by the Cubs in the Jablonski transaction; rookie Hal Bevan; and veteran utilityman Rocky Bridges.

Grammas handled third base in the latter stages of the 1956 campaign and finished with a .243 batting average. He always has been a fine defensive player and now has impressed in the spring workouts with a display of hard hitting.

Hoak and Bevan also have shown well both at bat and afield. Hoak, who came up with the Brooklyn Dodgers, hit .215 for Chicago last season. Bevan batted .302 for Havana in the International League in 1956.

Bridges, a steady fielder, batted .211 last year.

Around the camps:

Plastic cap worn by Bill Virdon saved Pirates' outfie'der from serious injury Thursday when he was struck on the head by a wild throw on an attempted pickoff. . . . Giants' owner Horace Stoneham admitted absence of Ruben Gomez and Ramon Monzant from camp was fault of transportation arrangement mixup and apologized to both players. . . .

Jose Valdivielso walloped triple and two singles in Senators' intrasquad game. . . . Tigers collected 24 hits—including 11 extra base blows and six homers in camp fray. . . . Holdout Willie Miranda telephoned Orioles from Havana but refused to agree to terms. . . .

Yanks' Mickey Mantle will be used for pinch-hitting purposes only in weekend exhibitions with Cards. . . . Southpaw Johnny Podres of Dodgers, who blanked Yanks in seventh game of 1955 World series, retired seven straight batters in first intrasquad appearance since Navy discharge.

District Play Opens Here, 2 Games Set

Shelby's Whippets and Tiffin Columbian continue their drives for state high school basketball laurels in district play here tonight

Shelby, co-winners of the Marion Sectional tournament here last week, will collide with Sandusky High School in the nightcap of tonight's program Tiffin will be in action against the Mansfield Tygers in the 7 p.m. opener.

Tonight's winners will lock horns Saturday at the Coliseum for the right to enter regional play at Toledo next week along with district champs from Lima, Toledo and Columbus.

Tiffin will carry a 17-1 record into the opening contest tonight compared to a 7-13 mark for the Tygers. Shelby's record stands at 18 wins against a single setback while Sandusky has won six and lost 12. Tiffin's only setback came at the hands of Shelby while the Whippets suffered their only reversal at the hands of Dayton Dunbar.

Semifinals Slated In Women's Event

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP)—Mrs. Ann Casey Johnstone of Mason City, Iowa, giant killer of the Florida East Coast women's amateur golf tournament, today took on the biggest giant of the winter tour—Barbara Romack of Sacramento, Calif.

Miss Romack won over Betty Kerby of Akron, Ohio, 2 and 1 and Mrs. James Lee of Coral Gables, Fla., 8 and 7 Thursday.

Ann Middlemas, 16-year-old Florida women's champion from Panama City, and Marge Burns, part time school teacher from Greensboro, N. C., clashed in the other semifinal.

Miss Middlemas defeated Shiela Moss of San Bernardino, Calif., 5 and 4 and Fran Emerson of Dayton, Ohio, 4 and 3. Miss Burns defeated Mary Pat Janssen of Charlottesville, Va., 1 up and Kathy Newton of Cleveland 4 and 3.

Rosenbluth Gets 45

Tar Heels, Mountaineers Nail First Tourney Tests

By The Associated Press

North Carolina, the nation's No. 1 college basketball team, was safely past the first hurdle in the Atlantic Coast Conference tournament today, but the Tar Heels must win seven more games in a row to cop the NCAA championship.

That's a big order, even for a team with 25 straight victories this season.

Thursday night in the first round of the ACC tournament at Raleigh, N.C., All America Lennie Rosenbluth tallied a record 45 points as North Carolina walloped Clemson 81-61.

The Tar Heels tackle Wake Forest, a 66-57 winner over North Carolina State—defending champions—in tonight's semifinals. The finals are Saturday night.

Unbeaten North Carolina must win the ACC tournament to qualify for the NCAA berth.

West Virginia, favored to take the Southern Conference title in that tournament which began Thursday in Richmond, Va., also moved into the semifinals with a 71-51 victory over Davidson.

In another important game bearing on the NCAA tourney, Harvard upset Dartmouth 69-60, giving Yale the Ivy League championship. Yale, with an 11-2 league mark, meets Harvard Saturday, but second-place Dartmouth (9-4) is out of the running.

This means Yale would meet North Carolina—provided the Tar Heels come through at Raleigh—in the Eastern NCAA regional tourney at Madison Square Garden March 12.

In other first round AAC tournament games, Maryland squeezed past Virginia 71-68, and South Carolina upset Duke 84-81 in another thriller. The winners meet in the other semifinal tonight.

West Virginia, which was eliminated by Dartmouth in the opening round of the NCAA tourney a year ago, meets darkhorse Richmond in one of the Southern Conference semifinals tonight, while second-seeded Washington and Lee plays Virginia Tech in the other. Tech defeated William and Mary 64-56, while Richmond eliminated fourth-seeded Furman 90-71, and W&L overpowered The Citadel 85-62.

Caffie Smacks Three Homers In Tribe's Drill

TUCSON, Ariz (AP) — Shortstop Chico Carrasquel is the only remaining Cleveland Indian holdout following the signing of Rudy Regalado, Dick Tomanek and John Gray Thursday.

Hank Greenberg, Tribe general manager, notified Carrasquel earlier this week that he had to report to camp today "or else."

Asked what he will do if Chico doesn't make it today, Greenberg replied, "What action can we take?

"Just set another deadline I suppose."

Regalado, Tomanek and Gray will report to the Indians' training camp here immediately.

The hero of a nine inning intrasquad game was Joe Caffie, 26-year-old rookie from Warren. He clouted three home runs over the right field wall, accounting for eight of his teams' 13 runs.

Shantz Gaining Weight In New York Uniform

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Bobby Shantz, obtained in the recent deal with the Kansas City A's, is the latest to find out "it's great to be a Yankee."

The pint-sized southpaw has gained five pounds since being traded to New York. His weight now is 149.

Flywheels Greet 3 New Members

Three new members were welcomed by the Marion Flywheels at a meeting held Thursday night at City Hall. The new members are Walt Wesley, Brent Martin and Dave Tighe.

Five guests attended the meeting including three New Bloomington youths who expressed interest in organizing a club at New Bloomington. Carl Tennant, service manager for Ripley Motors, was speaker and offered the club a meeting place at the garage. The next meeting will be held there and club members will ballot on the offer.

A club traffic court session was held and the violating member, charged with speeding, was fined $9.50 and had his club plaque suspended for six weeks. He also was placed under a six-month probation. Club members are fined in a club court when caught violating a traffic law by fellow club members. If a member is arrested by a traffic officer and appears in court he is charged half of his total fine and his membership card is confiscated.

The club voted to close its membership until July 1. A spokesman said applications for membership would be accepted, however. A meeting of club officers will be held Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Frank Finley.

The 60-yard dash record of :06.2 at the New York Athletic Club indoor games set by James F. Quinn of Holy Cross in 1928 has been tied 19 times.

Richwood Nails 108-53 Win in Tourney Contest

'Y' League Closes

Marion Metal, Whirlpool and Hunt Milling were winners Thursday night in the final session of play in the YMCA Open League activity.

Marion Metal copped a 51-47 thriller from Kroger behind the 22-point sharpshooting of Lavender. Cline led the losers, scoring 24 points in the losing cause.

Whirlpool raced to a 74-43 decision over McMillen. The winning attack was paced by Dick King, who accounted for 23 points. Brents had 22 to lead the losers.

Hunt Milling was awarded a forfeit win over Local 1667.

May Enter Fight

President Voices Support For Pan-Am Appropriation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House was to take a hand today in trying to settle a dispute over a proposal to spend five million dollars in federal money to stage the Pan American Games in Cleveland.

The outcome of the fight over this proposed appropriation may determine whether the 1959 "Olympics of the Western Hemisphere" will be held in this country.

At his news conference Thursday, President Eisenhower voiced support for the games, saying he felt they would help "solidify" relations between the United States and Latin America. He said he understands the five millions is needed to make the games a success.

But Sen Lausche (D-Ohio), who hails from Cleveland, contends the proposed appropriation represents an unessential item for an "entertainment project." Some Ohio house Members are ranged on both sides of the question.

Presidential Assistant Howard Pyle arranged to confer at the White House with Ohioans in Congress, including Lausche, and with sponsors of the games

Braves Working On Base Running

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves, including such expensive properties as Eddie Mathews, Hank Aaron and Joe Adcock, have bumped their way through a sliding drill without the aid of pits, sawdust or sand.

"They'd get used to pits," manager Fred Haney said Thursday as he called perspiring Braves up for their turn. "They wouldn't know how to do it once they had to in a game. That's why I want them to slide under actual game conditions."

Welters Duel In Television Boxing Match

NEW YORK (AP) — Garnett (Sugar) Hart and Walt Byars, a couple of ambitious welterweight newcomers who have almost forgotten how defeat tastes, collide in a television fight at Madison Square Garden tonight.

Hart, a power-punching 21-year-old from Philadelphia, has won 12 straight in nearly two years. Byars, 25-year-old Boston boxer and holder of the New England 147-pound crown, has an unbeaten streak of 10 for about the same period.

Despite the impressive records of both, Hart has been made an almost prohibitive 4-1 choice for the 10-rounder. It will be the Garden debuts of the two unranked but highly regarded prospects.

Sugar, a skinny, long-armed 5-11 speedster with a kick in either hand, has knocked out his last seven opponents. He has a 20-1 record, 18 of the wins by kayos. His only loss was a one-round knockout by Fred Terry in his ninth fight.

It's the difference in punch which has made the Philadelphian the solid favorite.

Byars, in building up his 16-2-1 record, has scored only four knockouts. He never has been stopped, however.

NBC will broadcast and telecast at 10 p.m., EST.

Railroad Appeals

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Nickel Plate Railroad has appealed to the Ohio Supreme Court from a $25,125 award by Van Wert County courts to Mrs. Helen C. Bergield for the death of her husband, Claude, while working in company yards at Delphos. He was fatally injured Nov. 26, 1954.

Bucks' Howard Wins Spot on Honor Quintet

CHICAGO (AP) — The Associated Press 1957 all-Big Ten basketball team, with exceptional scoring and defensive balance, was announced Friday.

The team, which includes six players for the third straight year, was selected by AP sports writers in the conference area.

For the first time in years, not a single senior made the No. 1 unit — significantly pointing to possible better seasons to come in Big Ten title campaigns.

Michigan State, co - champion with Indiana and NCAA tournament representative, landed two players. They are 6-3 Jack Quiggle, one of five juniors honored, and 6-5 John Green, the only sophomore.

Rounding out the first team are 6-6 Frank Howard, Ohio State; 6-4 George Kline, Minnesota; 6-3 Don Ohl, Illinois, and the Big Ten's scoring champion with a 25.4 average, 6-8 Archie Dees of Indiana.

Howard, an excellent backboard man who was runner-up in scoring with 19.9 to barely edge Kline with 19.1, and Dees were unanimous choices. Kline was next in the voting tabulation with Ohl close behind, followed by Quiggle and Green.

Green, who never played basketball until entering the military service, beat out his teammate, Larry Hedden, by only a few votes.

Possessing a remarkable sense of timing, Green topped MSU in rebounding with an average of 13 per game and also averaged 12.9 points in conference scoring.

Cubs' Pilot Sees Need for Players

MESA, Ariz. (AP) —Manager Bob Scheffing believes his Chicago Cubs need more ball players to contend seriously for the National League lead.

He expressed this view Thursday after observing the full squad work out for a week.

Scheffing said Ernie Banks, will be missing from the lineup when the Cubs launch their 34 - game exhibition schedule Saturday with the Baltimore Orioles.

Banks, the Cubs' star shortstop, has been suffering from a sore throwing arm.

Middies Nail 47th Straight For New Ohio Prep Record

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Middletown's mighty Middies, defending champions and six-time winners of the state Class AA high school basketball crown, own a new record today.

The Butler County powerhouse, victor in more state meets than any other team, squelched Dayton Wilbur Wright 89-54 Thursday night for its 47th straight conquest over a two-year span.

That broke the record of 46 set by Floyd Stahl's Dayton Stivers club as it ran up three straight state titles in 1928, 1929 and 1930.

Stivers, also a winner in 1924, is runner-up to Middletown in the championship department since the Ohio High School Athletic Assn. founded the tourney in 1923.

Lucas Sets Pace

Jerry Lucas, Middletown's 6 foot 9 All-Ohio junior, poured 38 points through the hoop—just about his average for the 22 in a row the Middies have added since their title-winning streak of 25 a year ago.

The talent toll was terrific, however, on the district tourney front Thursday night. The Class A field of 696 teams was pared to 44.

The 349 Class AA squads were slashed to 47.

Two former state champions, Columbus East (1951) and Dover (1927 and 1933) were victimized. East was a 55-54 victim of Columbus Central. Dover fell 70-63 before St. Clairsville as the latter won its 21st in a row. Tuesday, the Central team ousted another former champ, Upper Arlington's 1937 Class B kings, also by a single point, 54-53.

Two of last year's regional qualifiers in Class A—Chagrin Falls and South Zanesville—dropped out Thursday night. Chagrin Falls, one of the four state finalists, was ousted 70-66 by Savannah, and South Zanesville was a 78-68 victim of Bethel at Marietta.

Still in the fight are a half-dozen former champions in Class AA, and two in Class A.

In the big school bracket, along with Middletown, are Springfield (1925 and 1950), Zanesville (1926 and 1955), Dayton Roosevelt (1934), New Carlisle Tecumseh, the Class B champ in 1940, and Delphos St. John, Class B victor in 1949. The latter schools are now in Class AA.

Two Face Elimination

Two of them must get out of the way this week. Middletown tangles with Dayton Roosevelt (20-2) in Saturday's finals at Dayton, while Springfield (12-9) and Tecumseh (20-1) are among the remaining quartet at Troy.

Arcanum (19-4), the defending Class A title holder, is still on deck in the Springfield district meet. Lockland Wayne (17-5), the winner in 1952 and 1955 and runner-up in 1949, is still alive at Cincinnati.

Cincinnati Taft, which ousted three-time state champion Hamilton (1937, 1949 and 1954 and the only team to win in three different decades) Tuesday night, was ushered to the sidelines Thursday night by Cincinnati McNicholas 54-36.

Akron South became the first regional qualifier. It bested Akron Garfield 68-49 Thursday night to gain a berth in the four - team Class AA event at Kent. Three Class A regional qualifiers will be named tonight as Green Hills meets Lockland Wayne at Cincinnati, Nelsonville tangles with Buchtel at Athens, and Pleasantville plays Newark St. Francis at Westerville.

The other 28 qualifiers for next week's play, 15 in Class AA and 13 in Class A, will be decided Saturday.

Ohio Income From Tracks Hits New High

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's "take" from horse race betting last year jumped nearly $750,000 over 1955, James A. Rhodes, state auditor, reported Thursday night.

The 1956 tax on pari - mutuel wagering was $7,048,482. That means the state share of horse bets passed the seven million dollar mark only five years after it first hit the one-million mark in 1951. State revenue from racing in the first year that betting was legalized—1933—was $104,139.

The number of days of racing in Ohio last year was 3½ times the number in 1933, but 19¼ times as much money was wagered.

Ohio racing fans last year backed their favorite horses with bets totaling $123,567,758 against the 1933 total of $6,412,510. There were 589 racing dates in 1956 and 170 in 1933.

Comparative state revenue figures for major running tracks (1956 figure first and 1955 figure second):

Ascot Park (Akron) $843,629 and $700,948.

Beulah Park (Columbus) $669,701 and $605,899.

Cleveland Raceways (Cranwood) $850,551 and $779,767.

Hamilton Raceways $359,942 and $233,043.

Randall Park (Cleveland) $1,122,172 and $1,043,594.

River Downs (Cincinnati $854,067 and $806,309.

Toledo Turf Club $282,055 and $238,102.

Comparative figures for major harness race tracks:

Aurora Downs (Solon) $408,136 and $330,766.

Columbus Trotting (Hilliard) $100,472 and $95,065.

Lebanon Trotting Assn. $97,019 and $105,195.

Painesville Raceway $159,191 and $153,576.

The drop at Lebanon was the only state revenue decrease noted in Rhodes' report.

Rigney Says Sox Equal to Yankees

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) —The Chicago White Sox can nose out the Yankees in the American League pennant race this year says Sox Vice President Johnny Rigney — if the top Sox players reach their potential.

Rigney went down the Sox and Yankees lineup man for man. He believes the Sox have the advantage at some positions and the Yankees at others. But his overall appraisal left the clubs almost even.

Rookie Hopefuls Shine In Cincinnati Workouts

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — A trio of hustling rookie fielders made the Redlegs' intra-squad game Thursday a show of young strength.

Their day's credits:

Chico Alvarez — two home runs and a long double. Bonus kid Bob Henrich — five stolen bases. Curtis Flood — a two-out, two-run single which tied the game in the eighth inning.

Paul O'Leary, Fetchick Lead At Pensacola

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — Two pros who have had little success on the winter golf circuit so far are in the forefront at the start of the second round of the $15,000 Pensacola Open Tournament.

Mike Fetchick and Paul O'Leary two of the more massive of the touring pros, took the play from more favored players by touring the 6,325-yard Pensacola Country Club course Thursday in 68, four under par.

For Fetchick, a 190-pounder from Mahopac, N. Y., it meant the end to a tremendous slump during which he failed to scratch during the past five tournaments.

O'Leary, of Bismarck, N. D., who weighs in at about 205, likewise has had little success on the winter circuit.

Fetchick covered the par 33-36 course in 35-33, O'Leary in 34-34.

Three of the favorites, Peter Thomson, threetime British Open Champion from Melbourne, Australia; Doug Ford of Mahopic, N. Y., a former PGA titleholder; and Ed Furgol, ex-open champion, were a stroke off the pace at 69.

Defending champion Don Fairfield of Casey, Ill., trailed with a 73.

Tigers Meet Bosox In Opening Game

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — The Detroit Tigers have another intrasquad game on tap today before the club plays its first exhibition game Saturday in Sarasota against Boston.

Frank Lary, the Tigers' 21-game winner, was due to work today. Paul Foytack and rookie Don Lee will pitch Saturday. The Tiger pitchers for Sunday's game between Detroit and Kansas City at Lakeland will be Jack Crimian, Jim Bunning and Al Aber.

Manager Jack Tighe said Thursday's workout was one of the best of the training season.

Phil Cavarretta Lends Hand in Drills by A's

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The Kansas City A's finally worked in their first intrasquad tuneup game Thursday and guess who was on first.

Phil Cavarretta!

No, the longtime Chicago Cub first sacker and manager isn't trying a comeback. He's managing Buffalo in the International League this year and has been working out with the A's. The A's have a working agreement with Buffalo and it apparently covers first base when there is a shortage of first basemen in spring training camp.

Phil got a single, drove in a run.

Cardinals Are Blanked By Toronto Graduate

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Scrappy little Lynn Lovenguth, a rookie at 33, enhanced his chances of making the St. Louis Cardinal varsity with a sparkling three-inning stint in an intra - squad game.

A 24-game winner last year at Toronto, Lovenguth showed the results of winter pitching as he allowed just two hits Thursday, a leadoff single by Del Ennis and a hit by rookie pitcher Tom Cheney.

I DON'T KNOW IF I'M BEING GRADY'S FAIRY GODMOTHER OR AN OLD WITCH IN ADVISING YOU TO CUT HIM OUT OF YOUR LIFE.
YOU LOVE HIM, MISS MELLET, AND I DON'T. NOT EVEN A LITTLE BIT.
AND I THINK I'D BE DOING HIM A GREAT BIG FAVOR, HELPING HIM FIND OUT THAT A WOMAN LIKE YOU IS JUST SO MUCH BETTER FOR A MAN LIKE HIM.
THAT WAS A VERY LOVELY THING YOU JUST SAID, EVE, DEAR. LET'S HOPE THIS EXPERIMENT PERILOUS DOESN'T TURN OUT TOO PERILOUS!

Judy, I finally sold old Liz. A junk dealer offered me $12, but Avery bid $18.
Don't you mean $13, Daddy?
$18 is entirely out of character. Did you get the cash?
I sure did—16 ones and a two.
Are you sure they're good? I've never seen a two.
Yes, they are some Avery had stashed away before they changed the size of bills about 1929.

Woman Offers Excuse For Overtime Parking

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — A woman entered court with her 5-year-old son and a ticket for overparking.

"I'm not guilty — he is," she said, pointing to her son.

Then she explained she parked her car and told the boy to put coins in the parking meter when the time began running out. When she returned, the violation marker showed, and there was a ticket on the car.

She said her little son laughed "Mommie got a ticket!"

The case was dismissed.
